HOUE RESIGNS POST AS MAYOR OF MONTREAL

Well-known Figure Makes Public No Reason for Action, But Provincial Appointment from New Duplessis Government Rumored

FIRST ELECTED EIGHT YEARS AGO

Canadian Press
Montreal, Aug. 27.—Camillien Houde, a colorful figure in Quebec political life for the last decade, resigned today as mayor of Montreal without giving an explanation.

The resignation of the mayor was sent to city council members in caucus at noon. His secretary said it was unlikely Mr. Houde would reveal today his reason for leaving the office, to which he was first elected in 1928.

APPOINTMENT SUGGESTED

No reply was made from the mayor's office to the suggestion Mr. Houde would accept an appointment from the newly-elected Union Nationale Government of Quebec province headed by Premier Maurice Duplessis, which took office yesterday.

LONE LISTENER HEARD STALIN

London Paper Insists War-like Speech Made; Moscow Denies it

Associated Press
London, Aug. 27.—Blanket denials from Moscow failed today to shake the faith of a lone London radio listener who says he heard Dictator Joseph Stalin and other high Soviet authorities make "war-like" speeches to Russian armed forces early Wednesday.

The listener, whose identity was withheld by the London Evening News, which carried his report of the purported speeches, insisted there was no mistake.

"He has heard Stalin speak too many times to fail in recognizing his voice," said the newspaper.

"The other speakers were introduced by name."

"We have absolute confidence in our story."

After publication of the story last night, the Moscow government denied that Stalin or any other army leader had broadcast a speech that day and added the dictator never spoke over the radio, anyway.

Russian officials repeated the denial today, the Moscow Foreign Office calling the report a "pure canard."

The news story, quoted Stalin as saying: "War is imminent."

NEW MINISTRY IS PROTESTED

In Quebec Chamber 500 Voters Gather and Object to Premier Duplessis Leaving Dr. P. Hamel Out of Cabinet

Canadian Press
Quebec, Aug. 27.—More than 500 supporters of Dr. Philippe Hamel, member-elect for Quebec Centre, crowded into the Legislative Chamber today to continue their protest against omission of the dentist from the newly-formed Union Nationale Cabinet of Premier Maurice Duplessis, which took office yesterday.

The crowd renewed its demand to see the Premier, but he refused, as he did last night, to receive the leaders and discuss the matter.

For an hour and a half the crowd waited and then dispersed.

Another protest from Union Nationale circles here was that three of the Cabinet of fourteen were selected from the English-speaking section of the province's population. They are Provincial-Treasurer Mar-

Dr. Machen leads the fundamentalists who split with the modernists.

Eagle Seeks Boston Bull

Puppy Lost From California Automobile Remains Entangled in Brush on Malahat for Five Days; Women Beat Off Great Eagle and Rescue Starved Puppy

Weak from five days' exposure on the mountainside, during which time it nearly became prey of a determined eagle, a small Boston bull pup is recuperating at the Malahat Lookout today until it is well enough to be returned to its owners, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Darrington of Hollywood, Cal.

The little dog jumped from the automobile in which Mr. and Mrs. Darrington were touring when a stop was made at the Lookout for refreshments on Saturday afternoon.

Efforts to find the pup were futile. It was feared it had become lost down the mountainside and the chances of finding it were reduced by the fact that the dog seldom barked.

After asking R. W. Buller of the Lookout and his staff to do all possible to recover the dog, the Darringtons continued the journey.

The also asked to have the dog returned to Hollywood if it was found. Yesterday afternoon Miss Essie Bell and Miss Criselle Kirk were attracted by an eagle hovering low on the mountainside.

As they did so they heard the pitiful whimpering and crying of (Turn to Page 11, Col. 6)

City Has 200 New Telephones

Subscribers in Empire and Garden Exchanges total 16,130

Victoria telephone subscribers have increased by over 200 in the last six months, according to information received today from the B.C. Telephone Company.

The new telephone book which was issued today contains 576 new names. These are scattered all over the island and increases are particularly evident in Port Alberni and Nanaimo.

Victoria now has 16,130 telephone subscribers, of an average of one telephone for every three and a half people. This is just a few hundred below the peak figure of November, 1930, when the city switched to the automatic system, records in the B.C. Telephone Company show. All these subscribers are in the Empire and Garden Exchanges.

The 200 increase in these two exchanges was evenly divided between city and suburb, officials in the telephone company said. "There is no greater telephone development in Canada," they declared.

SCRIP ACT FOR EDMONTON IS NEW PROPOSAL

Alberta Government May Overcome Objections of Courts to City Accepting Prosperity Certificates in Place of Cash for Relief Purposes

Canadian Press
Edmonton, Aug. 27.—Validating legislation to enable the city of Edmonton to accept the Alberta government's Prosperity Certificates in payment of relief grants is in course of preparation by the Provincial Attorney-General's department, it was learned today.

No comment from government members was available, but it was known there was a probability of a bill being introduced at the present special session of the Legislature to overcome an interim injunction under which the municipality is forbidden to accept the certificates.

In the Alberta Supreme Court yesterday, Mr. Justice T. M. Tweedie upheld the injunction he granted two weeks ago to R. H. Watson, an Edmonton resident. Mr. Watson sought to restrain the city from accepting $85,000 worth of the scrip from the province in lieu of the monthly $55,000 cash relief grant.

One of the major points in the court decision was that the city has no power under its charter to enter into such an agreement with the province. By a legislative enactment validating the agreement, it was believed this objection would be overcome. It was expected the validating bill would be introduced in the Legislature today or tomorrow.

When Mr. Justice Tweedie in the proceedings yesterday upheld the injunction it was said the restraining order would remain in force until trial of the action in the Supreme Court, probably late in September. The court made no ruling on the validity of the certificates.

At the conclusion of the argument yesterday, Mr. Justice Tweedie said, without waiting for deliberation: (Turn to Page 11, Col. 6)

Tyee Salmon Tows Angler Two Miles In Great Fight

Five button fish in five days, including a beautiful fifty-four-pounder which fought for an hour and twenty-three minutes and towed a boat two miles, was the record established at Campbell River and Comox by Mr. and Mrs. Wallace H. McMillan of 1830 Rockland Avenue, formerly of Winnipeg, who have just returned to town. In the above picture Mr. McMillan is shown with three of his fish.

Last week at Campbell River Mr. McMillan hooked the fifty-four-pounder, which gave him a gold button. The following day he reeled in a Tyee weighing forty-four and a half pounds, which was good for a silver button fish. On the third day he landed the smallest of his button catches in those waters, a thirty-three and a half pounder, symbolic of a bronze button.

On their way home Mr. and Mrs. McMillan stopped at Comox. Mr. McMillan brought in a forty-two pounder. The next day, Mrs. McMillan hooked a forty-three-pound salmon.

Besides getting the three buttons at Campbell River, presented by the Tyee Club, Mr. McMillan was awarded the "Tyee Man Spoon," presented for the largest fish caught for the week of August 16 to 22. For their catches at Comox each was given a silver button, presented by the King Salmon Club.

Many citizens admired three of the big fish today in front of Roger Montel's store on View Street.

The biggest of the catch, which old-timers and guides at Campbell River classed as being the finest specimen they had ever seen caught with rod and line, took the angler one hour and twenty-three minutes to capture. The big gladiator, who had the tide with him, pulled Mr. McMillan for two miles, from the mouth of Campbell River down to the bay, where the angler finally got the fish into his boat. Spies Save Rebels In Northern Spain

Government Troops Mine Passes Near Irun, But Wires Are Cut and Insurgents Escape Being Blown Up

By ELMER W. PETERSON
Associated Press Correspondent
With Spanish Government Forces at Irun, Spain, Aug. 27.—Weary government leaders tonight said spies among their own militiamen had frustrated a plan to blow advancing rebel armies to bits in a field planted with dynamite.

The government chieftains, however, said a two-day rebel onslaught on Irun had failed under government machine-gun fire which killed hundreds of insurgents. They said their own losses were trivial, but unofficial estimates stated they were about half the rebel casualties.

Before the rebels launched their attack yesterday morning, the government leaders said, large quantities of dynamite had been buried under passes through which the insurgents were expected to advance.

Wires were stretched from the explosives to positions well behind the defending lines, and government advance posts were withdrawn to draw the rebels through the trap.

U.S. SECRETARY OF WAR PASSES

George H. Dern Succumbs at Washington to Results of Past Illness

Washington, Aug. 27.—George Henry Dern, Secretary of War in the Roosevelt cabinet, died in the Walter Reed Hospital here today from heart and other complications resulting from past influenza attacks. He was sixty-four years old.

Dr. Fritz Meyer, noted German heart specialist, called here from Boston at the direction of President Roosevelt, was in consultation with army doctors just before the patient succumbed at 12:55 a.m.

During the night, it was disclosed, Mr. Dern had been placed under an oxygen tent in an effort to prolong his life.

ILL WHILE GOVERNOR

The secretary's death, friends said, followed a general physical breakdown originating in a severe attack of influenza when he was Governor of Utah five years ago, and from which he never fully recovered.

Since then he had suffered from recurrent influenza attacks and severe colds which gradually weakened him and placed an extremely heavy strain on his heart.

ALFONSO MAY FLY TO SPAIN

Ex-king Reported Considering Alliance With Fascist Rebels

Associated Press
Innsbruck, Austria, Aug. 27.—The impression grew here today that former King Alfonso might make an impulsive decision to fly to Spain as a plane held for a fortnight on legal technicalities was tuned for a takeoff.

The plane brought two couriers to consult with Alfonso August 11. The plane had been held because the permit of Pilot Lieut. O. Cathcart Jones, noted English distance flier, had expired. Difficulties were adjusted and mechanics said the plane "awaits the king's orders."

Reports have been current since the revolt started that former King Alfonso might be willing to accept an alliance with Spanish Fascist rebels looking toward restoration of the monarchy.

Jaime and Juan, younger sons of Alfonso, were called to Delicias earlier this month and he was believed to have discussed with them his chances of returning to power in the midst of the bitter civil war.

Alfonso himself gave little indication of what he hoped and asserted "as long as the disturbances continue, I cannot discuss my plans."

HEAD OF C.P.R. RETURNS EAST

Sir Edward Beatty Sailed By Afternoon Boat Today for Vancouver

After spending two and a half days on Vancouver Island, Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, left the city by the 1:45 o'clock boat for Vancouver, en route east. The president was accompanied by W. M. Neal, vice-president and general manager C.P.R. western lines, Winnipeg; H. F. Mathews, general manager C.P.R. hotels, Montreal, and a group of directors.

Sir Edward said he was well satisfied with his western tour. He spent a busy morning in conference at the Empress Hotel today and found time to inspect the Crystal Garden before lunch.

At Vancouver, where he spent only an hour or two in company with Mayor G. G. Meager on Monday night while awaiting the boat's departure for Victoria, Sir Edward will put in two days looking over the company's terminals there.

Tomorrow the president will be a Board of Trade luncheon guest when the freedom of the city of Vancouver will be conferred upon him in appreciation of the C.P.R. co-operation in making possible the visit of Sir Percy Vincent, Lord Mayor of London, in connection with the Vancouver golden jubilee.

The inspection group will leave Vancouver aboard the special train, composed of the private cars Mount Stephen, Thorold, Van Horne, Killarney, Strathcona and Asiniboine, at 9 o'clock Sunday morning for Montreal.

The party will be back in Montreal September 10.

POPE IS ILL WITH WORRY

Disturbed by Spanish Situation, Pius XI Can Hardly Rise, Say Prelates

Associated Press
Vatican City, Aug. 27.—Prelates disclosed tonight that Pope Pius XI has become so weakened from worry over the Spanish situation that he scarcely is able to rise from his throne at the close of audiences.

Increasing heaviness of his limbs, the prelates said, might soon make it necessary for the seventy-nine-year-old Holy Father to be carried from one part of the apostolic palace to another.

His brother, Fermo, suffered the same malady a year before his death, several years ago, was unable to walk.

WILL TALK WITH REFUGEES

The disclosure of the Holy Father's condition came after prelates had announced the Pope, assisted by all the cardinals now resident in Rome, would soon preside at an expiatory ceremony in St. Peter's for the killing of priests and the destruction of churches in Spain.

He will soon receive Spanish bishops and priests who have found refuge in Italy and, in addressing them, protest to the entire world against the sacrileges of the civil war.

"This step is taken in line with proposals brought forward by the Minister of Municipalities regarding financial relief for the municipalities of British Columbia."

Move Aimed to Secure Reduction in Carrying Charges on Civic Debt Through Contact With Bond-holding Interests

Council To Study Matter Tomorrow

A sweeping change in civic financing is advocated by Mayor David Leeming and Alderman P. R. Brown, chairman of the finance committee, with the support of the committee, D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller-treasurer, and E. W. Ismay, Ismay, Boiston and Holden, city auditors. The proposal, which will be submitted to the City Council at a special meeting tomorrow morning, calls for direct contact between a special fiscal agent for the city, together with representatives of the city, and interests holding City of Victoria debentures in Great Britain and Toronto.

The entire arrangement is aimed to secure reduction of carrying charges on the city debt. The extent to which such negotiations, if successful, would relieve the city, could not be definitely determined, but they were expected to be considerable.

MAYOR'S STATEMENT

In a statement on the proposal today, Mayor Leeming said: "The finance committee last March called a meeting of bondholders of the city and asked them if they could advise us of the best method of handling our financial problems."

Justing out of that meeting, one of the firms came forward with a concrete suggestion which would be of undoubted value to the city if the suggestion could be carried out.

"At that time the city was preoccupied with the budget and consideration of the matter was postponed."

"The finance committee is now ready to recommend to the council the appointment of a fiscal agent to work on that project."

WOULD GO TO ENGLAND

"In order to carry out the scheme, it would be necessary for the fiscal agent and city representatives to visit London and other financial centres of Great Britain as well as Toronto for the purpose of conferring directly with the holders of City of Victoria bonds."

"The scheme in detail cannot be made public at present, as it would never do to let the bondholders get our ideas from the press. They must be presented in person."

"It is impossible to say what the amount of relief would be to our taxpayers, as the proposed adjustments may be subject to amendment in the negotiations."

"The expectation is, however, that the adjustments will be of great benefit to the taxpayers and the solvency of the city."

"This step is taken in line with proposals brought forward by the Minister of Municipalities regarding financial relief for the municipalities of British Columbia."

"My recent statement to the press on the amounts required to put us on a sound financial basis covers the need for the present action."

One-man Railroad Is Saved

The one-man staff of the Pioneer and Fayette Railroad took his engine whistle merrily these days, as his gas-powered train, shown above, rolls over its thirteen-mile line between the two Ohio towns after which it is named. Earl S. Snyder, shown below in engine cab—president, engineer, mechanic, conductor, and whatnot—at last has been given permission by the United States Government to sell $7,000 in certificates for new equipment and he is confident his railroad is saved. Drought, government red tape, and need of a new locomotive had him on the verge of despair until aid came.

VIEWS FUTURE OF THE EMPIRE

Steady Growth, Not Centralization Efforts, Best, Says Lord Tweedsmuir

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Aug. 27.—Canada had every reason to be interested in the new British Empire, for it was largely of her creation, Lord Tweedsmuir said in an address to the Canadian Club yesterday.

He traced empire growth to the days of its present conception and asked of its future course.

On one point it must get its ideas clear, its security in a distressed world and what contribution it could make to that international peace on which depended the security of civilization.

"It is not for me to attempt to dogmatize," the Governor-General said, "I am only going to put the question before you for your consideration."

"First let me say I see no hope in the ideal which attracts some people—that of a compact and self-contained empire, with a common defensive system under which the whole would guarantee the security of every part. There would be enormous difficulties in the way of framing such a system, and even if it were achieved it would not meet the difficulty."

"For the British Empire, potent as it is, is not potent enough to stand alone in the world."

"I think this is generally realized, and that is why Britain and the Dominions have from the start labored to secure, through the League of Nations, a system of world-wide collective security."

"That is a great ideal which we must never relinquish; but it is clear, I think, that the original League of Nations was devised on too ambitious lines."

"I think it is generally agreed that some revision is necessary, and that for the present the League will have to be organized more modestly; less on the lines of a world state than of a clearing-house for consultation and discussion."

EVOLUTION OF EMPIRE
Speaking of the future growth of the empire, Lord Tweedsmuir said: "Here I would venture upon a word of caution. Some of my imperialistic friends, especially in Britain, seem to me to be a little to eager to hurry the pace. They would like to gather all the Dominion statesmen round a table and sit down and work out a plan for an executive alliance in every department of common interest. I do not believe that would work. That is not the way the empire developed in the past, and it is not the way it will develop in the future. Any attempt to create a formal organization for common action would, to my mind, be bound to fail. We must feel our way carefully as the different issues arise. Just as imperial federations in Joseph Chamberlain's day would have stunted imperial development and might even have wrecked it altogether, so any attempt in our own day to go too fast and to lay down rules in advance before the proper atmosphere is created, would not increase, but would gravely impair, imperial solidarity."

Nasal Spray Cures Poliomyelitis

By SCIENCE SERVICE

Washington, Aug. 27.—Because spraying the nose with an alum-picroic acid solution has proved effective in preventing poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) in monkeys, it is being used in combating the Alabama-Tennessee epidemic on an experimental basis.

Although the U.S. Public Health Service warns that this new development by two of its surgeons, Dr.

Charles Armstrong and Dr. W. T. Harrison, "is not at present to be regarded as of proved value in the prevention of poliomyelitis in man," directions have been issued telling how the treatment may be administered. If it is desired to use the solution it should be sprayed into the nostrils three or four times on alternate days, and thereafter weekly during the presence of poliomyelitis. The spray tip should be pointed upward and backward at an angle of about 45 degrees, and the spraying should be thorough enough to reach the pharynx as well, when a bitter taste will be noted. The early applications at least should be administered by a physician.

The experimental work on animals is still being pursued. Therefore, the tentative procedure is subject to such changes as may be dictated by future findings.

The most effective solution so far developed during experimentation on monkeys is prepared as follows:
Solution A—Dissolve one gram (1 gm.) of picroic acid in 100 cc. of physiological salt solution (0.85%). (Warning facilitates solution of the picroic acid).
Solution B—Dissolve one gram (1 gm.) of sodium aluminum sulphate (sodium alum) in 100 cc. of physiological salt solution (0.85%). Any turbidity in this solution should be removed by filtering one or more times through the same filter paper. Mix solutions A and B in equal amounts. The resulting mixture, which contains 0.5% picroic acid and 0.5% alum, is sufficiently antiseptic to prevent the growth of organisms and is ready for use as a spray. Homemade concoctions are not favored.

Gland Causes Color Changes

Washington, Aug. 27.—The little color-changing lizards they call chameleons in Florida do not depend on their nerves to control their shifts in hue, but on the secretion of one part of the pituitary gland, a tiny organ situated close to the brain. This is indicated by recent researches of Dr. L. H. Kleinholz of Harvard University.

Dr. Kleinholz used several approaches to the problem. He found that cutting nerves did not affect the lizards' color-changing ability, but that removal of the pituitary gland left them unchangingly green. But injection of extracts of the gland from other animal sources, at least temporarily restored the color responses.

Dr. Kleinholz reports his results in some detail in the new issue of the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

Goes High to Get Lowdown

The mercury going soaring in a new August heat wave had nothing on this weatherman, who is way up there himself, finding out what it is all about. He learned that the heat had done a comeback which threatened to rival its scorching exploits of July over a large section of the nation. The man on the precarious-looking perch is Edgar C. Horton, meteorologist at the Birmingham U.S. weather bureau. The gadget he is handling is an anemometer, which registers wind velocity. Still higher is the wind direction indicator.

Silica Dust Is Poison Mystery

Scientists Seek to Explain Causes of Silicosis, Lung Disease

Associated Press
Cambridge, Mass., Aug. 27.—Science has one mystery yet to solve in silicosis, the most dangerous of all dust diseases.

The mystery is why silica, the dust responsible, turns into a poison when ground to particles the size of bacteria. The surprising behavior of silica was explained today at the Harvard tercentenary by Dr. W. Irving Clark and Prof. Philip Drinker of the Harvard School of Public Health.

Beach sand is almost pure silica. Silica is part of the beauty of opals and occurs in quartz, flint, sandstone, jasper and many other common substances. In all of them it is harmless to human beings.

When ground fine enough to fly in the air, particles of silica cause a distinct, slow lung disease.

Dangers Of War In Pacific Are Debated

Quebec Cabinet Salaries Are Cut

Duplessis, New Premier, Also Says Members' Indemnities to Be Reduced

Canadian Press
Quebec, Aug. 27.—One of the first moves of Quebec's new Premier, Hon. Maurice Duplessis, after taking office yesterday, was to cut his own salary and those of his cabinet ministers. He also announced plans to reduce seasonal indemnities of members of the Legislative Assembly. The Premier rushed through an order-in-council cutting his salary from $14,000 annually to $12,000. The cabinet ministers each received a cut from $8,000 to $7,000.

The proposed indemnity reduction is 10 per cent off the $2,800 paid to a member for each session of the House lasting more than 130 days. It was estimated the reductions would save the treasury about $120,000 annually.

PENSIONS FOR BLIND
Pensions for blind people of Quebec between 61 and 70 years of age and over 70 years of age of the first bills introduced by Hon. Gilbert Layton, newly-appointed minister without portfolio, he announced yesterday evening.

"Even if Quebec has to support the entire cost, it would not amount to more than $140,000 a year," said the minister, who is honorary secretary of the Canadian Federation of the Blind.

A. T. LOVERIDGE DIES IN ONTARIO

Canadian Press
Port Erie, Ont., Aug. 27.—The funeral will be held tomorrow at Ridgeway, near here, of the late Alfred T. Loveridge, the seventy-six-year-old citizen died in a hospital yesterday.

Surviving him are the widow, two sons, Dr. W. A. Loveridge, Vancouver, and Gilbert of Hartford, Conn., and three daughters, Mrs. Gordon Toomey, Penitence, B.C., Mrs. Vernon Puckett, Wenatchee, Wash., and Miss Lillian, Seattle.

SUGAR IN MOTOR
Guelph, Ont., Aug. 27 (Canadian Press).—Police are looking for a practical joker who put sugar in the gasoline tank of Robert Aldridge's truck. It practically ruined the motor, clogged with sugar.

The fraxinella plant gives off such quantities of gas that the fumes can be ignited with a match.

Prof. N. MacKenzie of Toronto Tells Pacific Institute at Yosemite, Cal., Canada Would Be Drawn In

Canadian Press
Yosemite, Cal., Aug. 27.—There would be little chance of Canada, keeping out of a war in the Pacific in which either the United States or Great Britain was involved, in the opinion of Prof. Norman MacKenzie, of the law department of the University of Toronto.

Prof. MacKenzie advanced his opinion in a paper prepared for presentation at a round-table discussion at the sixth international conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations here.

He wrote that Canada's close geographical, cultural and economic ties with the United States would mean that if the republic became involved in major hostilities with either a European or Asiatic power, and these extended to American shores, it would prove "extremely difficult, if not impossible, for Canada to maintain her neutrality."

ACCESS TO ALASKA
Prof. MacKenzie said this would be particularly true if the trouble arose in the Pacific. It was almost certain the United States would find that access to Alaska through Canada would be essential to her defensive and offensive operations.

On the question of Canada being drawn into a Pacific war in which Great Britain was involved, Prof. MacKenzie wrote:

"The fact that Great Britain has very extensive interests and connections in China, and the existence of Hongkong and United Kingdom and Dominion possessions and mandates in the Pacific... greatly increase the possibility of Canada being involved in any trouble arising in that part of the world."

COLLECTIVE SECURITY
Observers of international affairs, citing possibilities of war in the Far East, urged at yesterday's session the adoption of some collective security system for the world.

Proponents of the collective system were J. W. Dufosse, president of the Winnipeg Free Press; H. J. Van Mock of the Netherlands, and F. W. Eggleston of Melbourne, Australia.

Mr. Dufosse, speaking on the collective security system, discussed the "extreme vulnerability" of Western powers in the Pacific, particularly of Great Britain.

He declared no real adjustment of any problem could come through a practical "collective security means" no nation can be the judge of what is defensive war.

SAYS TRIAL INFLUENCED

Ontario Judge Finds St. Catharines Editor Guilty of Contempt of Court

Canadian Press
Toronto, Aug. 27.—N. W. Moore, editor of The St. Catharines Sunday Star, yesterday was found guilty by Mr. Justice J. Keiller MacKay of contempt of court for publishing an article "tending to prejudice the fair trial" of William and Annie Manchuk, awaiting trial on a murder charge.

Moore was given a suspended sentence of one year and ordered to enter into a recognizance to the amount of $1,000, and to publish a complete withdrawal of the offending statements and an apology to those whom they may have harmed, as well as to the Ontario Attorney-General, who applied for the writ of attachment.

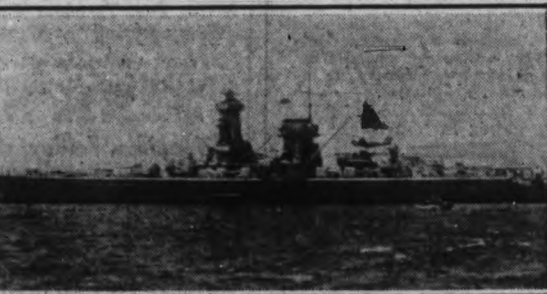

"It is important that if the rights of citizens are to be guarded with care, that jealousy which our law invokes, attempts, designedly or otherwise, to prejudice or stamper, urge or coerce the minds of jurors, must be stamped out," asserted Mr. Justice MacKay.

The specific statement in the article stated that "murder had been done." Frank J. Flynn, appearing for the editor, said the story of the quarrel that led to the murder charge was common knowledge in St. Catharines. He argued the statement could not prejudice the minds of jurors as the judge who tried the case would instruct them as to what constituted murder and manslaughter. The Manchuk's man and wife, are accused of murder as a result of the death of John Seabright from injuries he received in a quarrel over erection of a line fence between his and the Manchuk's properties.

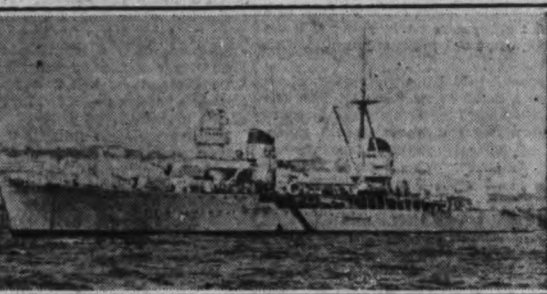

WAR DANGERS ARE WIDESPREAD

Associated Press
Yosemite, Cal., Aug. 27.—Albert Sarraut, former Premier of France, warned today that another European war, unless prevented, might eventually spread over the whole world. "We live in a period of human history in which peace is nowhere secure, in which peace cannot be limited, in which we are unable to say that war may break out in one place and not another," he told the Institute of Pacific Relations last night.

CANDIDATE IS SEEN IN KILTS

Large Vancouver-Burrard Audience Hears J. Howard Forester, Liberal

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Aug. 27.—There were two main issues in the Vancouver-Burrard by-election, Communism versus Liberalism and the record of the Pattullo government. J. Howard Forester, Liberal candidate, told a large audience at a campaign meeting yesterday evening.

Appearing in kilts, Mr. Forester explained he had just left a Highland gathering at Hastings Park and had not had time to change. After saying he was making no apologies either for the costume or the necessity of appearing in it, he said:

"I do not think the people of Burrard are going to favor any change from the democratic system of government to any system of Communism that would mean forfeiture of personal liberty and inevitable dictatorship.

SOCIAL LEGISLATION
"The record of the Liberal Party in social legislation is unequalled in all Canada. I doubt if it is equalled in the world," the candidate declared.

Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education, and Hon. Frank MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, also spoke. Both gave detailed and vigorous accounts of the record of the government in matters of their respective departments.

Indalecio Prieto Says Germany and Italy Supply Rebels While Other Countries Talk of Non-Intervention Plans

Associated Press
Madrid, Aug. 27.—Spain is the "Babylon of Europe" deserted by those nations whose vital interests should compel them to be her active allies, Indalecio Prieto, Socialist "iron chancellor," declared today.

Prieto, former Minister of Public Works, spoke these bitter words early this morning at his apartment in the well-defended, sandbagged ministry of marine.

The stocky labor leader made plain his disappointment with the manner in which the world's democratic countries have reacted to Madrid's defence against Fascist rebellion.

"What help has France and Great Britain given us in our distress hours?" he asked. "None at all, while Germany, Italy and Portugal are providing our rebel enemies with all the material they want."

Prieto holds no official position, but as leader of the parliamentary Socialist Party is the most important man behind the government.

NEUTRALITY PLAN
"The diplomats of Europe are very busy over their plan for a convention of neutrality and non-intervention," he continued.

"But what good is such a convention to us? None at all! "It will in fact damage our cause. Obviously France and Great Britain will sign it and keep their word while Germany, Italy and Portugal will sign it and go on helping the rebels as before."

"I cannot understand why France and Great Britain can be so blind to their own interests."

"The establishment of a Fascist regime in the west end of Europe is not a contingency they can envisage with pleasure."

Governor At Vancouver Fair

Lord Tweedsmuir Opens Exhibition, at Which Attendance Record Set

Vancouver, Aug. 27.—Lord Tweedsmuir and Vancouver yesterday celebrated their birthdays together.

Sixty-one years ago the Governor-General was born at Perth, Scotland, and yesterday he opened the Canada Pacific Exhibition, climax event of the Golden Jubilee of a metropolis eleven years younger than he.

Sunshine which has been practically unbroken through two months of festivity, greeted the Governor-General as he saw the city in the most colorful array in its history. His words to its citizens in a day of ceremonies and addresses, were of its future as a Pacific gateway, and of the parts the city, Canada and the British Empire must play in world events.

LONG PARADE
Before the opening of the exhibition scores of thousands jammed downtown streets, where a monster parade was a central spectacle—a parade of floats which took two hours to pass a given spot. As the last floats left the starting point the first were returning home after touring miles of city streets. When it was over it was practically impossible to get a meal or refreshment downtown, so jammed were eating places with customers, while long lines remained in the streets.

Opening the exhibition the Governor-General remarked: "I remember that Mr. Kipling, who had traveled in most parts of the globe, once told me he had found many places that he admired and some that he loved; but that he had discovered only one earthly paradise, and that was in British Columbia. I can see no reason to differ from that verdict. You have created a wonderful metropolis."

OCEAN PLANE ON TEST FLIGHT

New York-Newfoundland Trip By Dick Merrill and Harry Richman

Associated Press
Brooklyn, N.Y., Aug. 27.—Dick Merrill and Harry Richman took off in their monoplane, Lady Peace, from the Floyd Bennett airport at 9:26 a.m., E.D.T. (5:28 a.m. P.S.T.) today on a non-stop test flight to Newfoundland.

The plane, loaded with about 900 gallons of gasoline, almost as much as the pair intended to use on their round-trip flight to London, was given a long run across the big airport before it rose.

At the edge of the field waited an ambulance, police cars and an emergency squad.

Merrill, veteran transport pilot former Royal Air Force flier, pulled the big ship into the air smoothly, however, Richman, cafe and theatre singer, planned to maintain radio-telephone contact with the radio control units along the eastern coast.

Richman said they hoped the actual flight to London could be started tomorrow, and that, if today's tests proved satisfactory, all he and Merrill awaited was word of passable weather over the Atlantic.

WEATHER FAVORABLE

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 27 (Canadian Press).—Dick Merrill and Harry Richman, flying here from Brooklyn in the monoplane Lady Peace for a projected flight to Europe and back, will meet favorable weather as they approach Newfoundland. After a dull morning, it was clearing rapidly and visibility was good.

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 27 (Canadian Press).—An International Power and Paper Company plane sighted over Bonney Bay and Bay of Islands this afternoon was mistaken for the monoplane "Lady Peace" in which Dick Merrill and Harry Richman hopped off from the Floyd Bennett field at New York this morning. The paper company machine landed at Cornerbrook.

HUNGER STRIKE IN POLISH MINE

Canadian Press
Buthe, Polish Upper Silesia, Aug. 27.—Wives, mothers and children waited today at the head of a coal mine shaft at Malandombrowska, where 300 miners have been on a hunger strike for five days.

Daily, at noon, the self-imprisoned miners life their voices in a "hymn of sorrow."

The underground chorus chants the strikers' demands; the strikers above the ground chant a response, and the women and children weep. The miners swear they will not emerge until their overdue wages are laid on a table at the foot of the shaft.

FIRE KILLS FIVE

Indian Orchard, Pa., Aug. 27 (Canadian Press).—Fire today destroyed a frame dwelling, killing five members of a family and injuring two. Those who lost their lives were: Mr. and Mrs. George Griffin and three children.

with the noblest natural background in the world."

ATTENDANCE RECORD
Opening-day attendance records went by the boards today as more than 60,000 persons filed through the clicking turnstiles at the exhibition. Of the record-breaking crowd, some 40,000 were children, taking advantage of the free tickets which had previously been distributed among the public schools by the exhibitions association.

Canada's Contribution to Empire

LORD TWEEDSMUIR'S ADDRESS
To the Canadian Club in Vancouver yesterday struck a note which may have jarred the susceptibilities of the ultra-imperialistic element. Naturally, he believes in the British Empire, not only for its potent force in world affairs, but also for the influence it can wield for the common good of humanity.

The Governor-General paid a gracious compliment to the important part which Canada had played in the creation of what he called "The New British Empire," but he wondered if Canadians realized how great a contribution they had played in its making. To quote His Excellency:

"I think it may fairly be said that our new imperial theory is principally the work of Canada—first, then, emphasized by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, then emphasized by Sir Robert Borden during and immediately after the war, and finally supplemented by the work of the present Prime Minister of Canada at the 1926 conference. Canada has every reason to be interested in the new empire, for it is largely her creation."

It will be recalled that at the 1926 Imperial Conference the famous "Balfour resolution" laid down the basic fact that from then henceforward the self-governing Dominions of the British Empire would be equal—neither superior to a sister Dominion.

So when Lord Tweedsmuir referred to the most vital of Imperial Conferences—the one of 1926—he unquestionably had in mind the epochal resolve of that gathering. It was only natural, of course, that His Excellency should touch upon the subject of economics as they relate to the trading relationships between the component parts of the Britannic Commonwealth of Nations. His sage commentary on this aspect is worth quoting for its vision and obvious grasp of the contrast in the fundamentals of an imperialism which derives its nourishment from selfishness with an imperialism which depends for the garnering of its harvest from honest co-operation—not only within its own family circle, but also with the other corporate states which make up the world of nations. This is what Lord Tweedsmuir said in part in Vancouver yesterday on this particular point:

"There will arise economic questions and political questions, in which the empire, speaking as a whole, would have infinitely more weight in the world than if Great Britain and each Dominion spoke with a separate voice. Sooner or later we must devise some apparatus of common action. Indeed, we are already busy at the task."

But here I would venture upon a word of caution. Some of my imperialistic friends, especially in Great Britain, seem to me to be a little too eager to hurry the pace. They would like to gather all the Dominion statesmen around a table and sit down and work out a plan for an executive alliance in every department of common interest. I do not believe that would work. That is not the way the empire developed in the past, and it is not the way it will develop in the future.

Any attempt to create a formal organization for common action would, to my mind, be bound to fail. We must feel our way carefully as the different issues arise. Just as Imperial federation in Joseph Chamberlain's day would have stunted imperial development, and might even have wrecked it altogether, so any attempt in our own day to go too fast and to lay down rules in advance before the proper atmosphere is created, would not increase, but would gravely impair, imperial solidarity.

The former John Buchan, now Governor-General of Canada as Lord Tweedsmuir, is a man of wide experience. If we may say so, he realizes that the slenderer the bonds which bind the various parts of the British Empire together the stronger they are—the stronger they will grow. It is all a family matter. As boys and girls grow up they take their feet from under the parental table. They want to forage for themselves. It is the law of human nature. But, after the family has left the parental fold, let anybody—some hostile element—step over the garden fence, then the boys and girls want to know all about it.

The members of the Britannic Commonwealth of Nations have grown up. As the Governor-General implies, do not let anybody try to tell them what their course should be. If they do not react normally, such as, for instance, they did in those trying days of the summer of 1914, there is not the hope for the British Empire we all cherish—that solidarity and co-operation which can, and we believe will, remain an arresting force for good in the world.

Wheat Supply Smaller

WORLD SUPPLIES OF WHEAT
For the current season, according to the latest figures of the Royal Bank, the smallest in a decade. Production, excluding Russia and China, is tentatively placed at about 3,500,000,000 bushels. Actual consumption during the past five years, on the other hand, has averaged 3,800,000,000 bushels. In order to meet normal requirements during the coming year, heavy withdrawals will have to be made from existing stocks. These are still moderately above the average prior to the record crop of 1928, but were reduced during the past crop year by approximately 220,000,000 bushels. Including stocks carried over, new crops and probable exports from the Soviet Union, total supplies for the coming year may be placed at about 3,950,000,000 million bushels, 250,000,000 less than those available last year. The close balance between available supplies this year and ordinary demand is apparent.

During the crop year ended July 31 last, Canadian exports of wheat and wheat flour accounted for more than 50 per cent of the world shipments and amounted to 254,000,000 bushels. The carry-over of Canadian wheat was reduced to 109,000,000 bushels against 203,000,000 at the beginning of the crop year. Present stocks are the smallest reported in seven years. As a result of the reduced carry-over and the low yields caused by unfavorable weather conditions, wheat supplies in Canada available for export this season will be the smallest in years, and with even normal export demand, stocks on hand on July 31, 1937, should be reduced to the level general prior to the bumper crops of 1927 and 1928.

The total wheat crop in the United States this year is the fourth smallest in the last twenty years. Present estimates place the crop at 633,000,000 bushels, as compared with an average for the five years, 1928-32, of 864,000,000 bushels. The carry-over in the United States as of July 1, was 150,000,000 bushels, indicating total supplies of 783,000,000 bushels for the current crop year. In 1935-36, consumption amounted to 655,000,000 bushels, and in 1934-35 to 661,000,000, while the five-year average was 620,000,000 bushels. Statistically, total supplies are apparently sufficient for the usual domestic requirements, but shortages exist in particular types, such as hard spring wheat and durum. The durum crop in the United States was practically a complete failure, amounting to only 9,000,000 bushels, as compared with an average of 54,000,000 for the five years 1928-32. Imports of wheat from Canada will be required to meet these deficiencies, although the total quantity imported may be slightly smaller than last year, when 37,000,000 bushels were taken for consumption and 13,000,000 for milling in bond for export as flour.

Not Very Convincing

IN VANCOUVER THE OTHER night, Dr. Frank Patterson, leader of the Conservative party in British Columbia, and its standard-bearer in the Vancouver-Burrard by-election—which will take place next Wednesday—surely has stolen his platform from the Liberals.

We do not make this statement in any flippant spirit. Dr. Patterson is reported to have said that he believes the dual income tax services should be abolished. His view is that the provincial and federal income tax should be collected under a single authority. Finance Minister Hart—supported, of course, by Premier Pattullo and his colleagues in the cabinet—will agree with Dr. Patterson. This is the policy for which he has been pressing for the last three years. As a matter of fact, Mr. Hart would like to see such an arrangement, if for no other reason than that it would enable him to save considerable expense, and, incidentally, give him a little more financial leeway in his dealings with the municipalities when their officials come to him in a very natural Oliver Twist mood.

And Dr. Patterson favors a provincial highway commission so that there might be a permanent road policy not subject to change as Ministers of Public Works succeed one another. This also is a policy which, as soon as circumstances demand, the government will inaugurate. If he will consult the files of The Times over a period of years he will discover that this newspaper always has been in favor of such a policy.

Then, again, Dr. Patterson would encourage prospectors and legitimate mining development companies—looking always to the reduction of mining taxation. And this, of course, is precisely what the Pattullo government has done and is doing.

We agree with Dr. Patterson also when he says that the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation's proposal to socialize finance is impracticable. So does Mr. Forester, his Liberal opponent in the by-election; so does the Pattullo government to which Dr. Patterson is politically hostile.

Notes

Whichever wins, Communist or Fascist, says the Lady of Spain, "my agony ends."—Bernard Partridge in a recent "Punch" cartoon.

Every half-minute for four years Great Britain poured into her war chest $87,500; every half-minute during the second battle of Ypres one man was killed; and the bullets which killed many men would, if they traveled for half a minute, cover fourteen miles. Members of the "War-is-Inevitable Association," please note.

Mr. Plunket Greene, the Irish singer, who died the other day in London at the age of seventy-one, will be remembered by Victoria music lovers for his rich baritone-basso voice, the perfection of his diction and his remarkable skill in interpretation. He visited here three times as an adjudicator for the annual music festivals, the last time in 1931. The recitals he gave were features of the festivals.

Quebec Conservatives have never suffered from overcrowding, as The New York Times has observed, and it is therefore evident the victory of the united opposition party under Mr. Duplessis last week could only have been brought about by "the preponderant help of sordid Liberals. Liberal newspapers long before the election had been referring to Taschereau and Taschereauism as 'millstones' around the neck of Liberalism in parts of Canada outside Quebec."

LOOSE ENDS

These primitive people must have their music even if it is Scottish—a lady from Cowichan protests; a Chinaman understands—and an authority believes we may last a while yet.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

SCOTS

ON THE BOAT going to Vancouver yesterday was a Scottish pipe band which, with the customary generosity of the Scottish people, played several pieces on the dock. The skirt of the pipes, the superb rhythm of the drums was enough to stir the coldest blood. And you should have seen the American tourists gaze in sheer wonderment. "Yeah," said the flabby gentleman from St. Paul, "it's a right sight, I guess, for niggers and savages in the jungle, but I can't see any music in it. Now, I like music as well as anyone—we've got a piano in the house and a radio and a gramophone and my boy plays the saxophone in a jazz band, and I never miss Rudy Vallee if I can help it—but you can't tell me this is music. It's just noise."

"But I suppose," said his wife, a lady whose fingernails were a brilliant crimson and who evidently was intellectual, "there is a certain primitive something in it—you know what I mean. Pop, a kind of barbaric rhythm, like African drums and all like that. It's a sort of religious ecstasy, if you know what I mean. You've got to feel it inside."

"Of course," said a gentleman, who displayed a wide expanse of vestless white shirt front, "these Scotchmen, they're pretty primitive. You gotta remember that, Sue. They're not like us over here—you know, living on porridge and all that. Look at those boys blowing into those tubes—they're wild. I tell you, and that guy swinging the drumsticks—he's just as soon knock you out with one of them, I bet, as hit that drum."

(The Scottish pipes and drummers were Victoria boys who had never been nearer Scotland than New Westminster.)

"Well," said the intellectual lady, "you can't expect to see real music up here, I guess. Remember, you only get a Rudy Vallee once in a generation."

Through all this a lean, stark lady in hairy tweeds, that looked as if they had come from Duncan, had been listening grimly. Now she could stand no more libels against her countrymen. A terrible oath was torn from her bosom.

"Oh, bother Rudy Vallee!" said she in a hoarse whisper, and strode up the dock with great Cowichan strides.

A little wizened Chinaman, crouching in a corner by himself, grinned with sheer physical delight as the pipes skirted and the drums thundered. This was music which he could understand.

DIFFERENCE
THE DIFFERENCE between the British and the American people is never so clearly seen as when you buy a copy of Punch and one of The New Yorker, each of which is supreme in its own field as the expression of the national sense of humor. A stranger reading Punch for the first time would imagine that the English were a simple, blundering, primitive race which believed in fairy tales. The current cynicism, the present fashionable habit of leering at life has not yet affected Punch. It is still childlike, sometimes exquisite, like "Alice in Wonderland," and sometimes as dull as English boiled peashooters.

A stranger reading The New Yorker would imagine that Americans were the hardest-boiled race on record, utterly cynical, rather savage and cruel, with the cunning of a wild cat. Whereas the Englishman is the most astute and the least simple man in the world. He wouldn't have acquired most of it if he were a sentimental creature alive. Both peoples are utterly misrepresented by their most popular and cleverest prints. This helps to prevent them understanding one another.

LIKE AN ELEPHANT

A LEARNED ARTICLE in The New English Weekly, a highbrow review in the best John Bullish style, seeks to prove that our civilization is not nearing its end. Apparently, the intellectual of England agree on the end of our civilization and cannot agree on the end of our civilization. The German fellow Spengler's "Decline of the West," written just after the War and rather ignored then, is beginning to get the last word. This monumental work, which, according to the New English Weekly, has a certain rugged beauty of its own, like the hindquarters of an elephant, keeps bobbing up in these troubled times to alarm and distress all thinkers, keeps reminding them that we may be attempting to prop up a hopelessly dilapidated building which will collapse in spite of us, and soon.

Spengler's case apparently is difficult for the intellectuals to answer. He and some other proud gentlemen have it all figured out that there have been only eight real civilizations in the world and they last on the average about 800 years. They go through two stages—first, a period of culture, rather crude, then as a full-blown civilization which, like a full-blown rose, is most beautiful just before it withers. You can tell, they say, when a civilization is full-blown because it is predatory. The earliest sign that our civilization was becoming full-blown, say the authorities, was Cecil Rhodes, the first of the great modern imperialists. Now imperialism everywhere is in bloom, and from this you can figure that the will will not be long in following. This has happened to every previous civilization and there is nothing to show that it won't happen to ours, and without delay.

Another intellectual giant, whose name escapes me, has just come forth in England to battle with the German Goliath. Boldly and with a striking disregard for current prejudices, he has announced a brand new theory. He has announced that our civilization is not about to collapse. Such a theory, of course, is revolutionary, and few will believe him. Unconsciously, without ever having read Spengler, we have been feeling for years that the jig was up, that everything was in a decline, but we have hoped to get through with our lives before the crash.

Now we have eminent intellectuals—who dare to say that there won't be a crash, that our civilization will go on for some centuries. The thing is staggering.

But it really isn't worth the trouble and mental effort of the intellectuals, for it doesn't matter much. The average man, you and I, will never know whether our civilization is ending or not. If it falls in our time, we shall never really suspect it. We shall complain about the depression and the high price of shoes and leather and the strange habits of the young. It will never occur to us really that this is the end of everything, for the wilting process takes too long in a civilization as far-flung as ours. Probably it will take a century at least, and if it is happening now, we shall never live to see the end of it. Our children will accuse themselves by degrees to the new barbarism and think it quite natural.

One thing is certain—if our civilization is worthy of itself to survive, it will; if it isn't, and it doesn't look very wholesome at the moment—it won't. You can't do anything about that. The best advice to those who have been infected by Spengler and this new English controversy is to enjoy the rest of this holiday season. Whatever is wrong with civilization, this weather, whatever the wilting touch of autumn, like mustard on your beef, is fine. And while civilization may last, this weather won't.

BLAMES IT ON THE PYRAMIDS

To the Editor:—My first thought when I heard the lecturer over the radio the other day ridiculing the Irish in Mayor Gerry McGee and his appearance on the reception to the Lord Mayor of London was that possibly the lecturer had had his head hit while passing under the lower part of the pyramid.

Possibly the same thing is the reason for him trying to give us so much debatable information upon the Pyramids and the Second Coming of Christ.

GEORGE HAMMOND, 1748 Port Street.

SPEAKS UP FOR THE IRISH

To the Editor:—In a recent address over the radio, Dr. Clem Davies criticized the Irish appearance and peculiarities, as he saw them, of Mayor McGee in his robes of office at the reception to the Lord Mayor of London.

I am satisfied that such criticism was against the wishes of those Sancho Panza dairymen who pay for these radio talks.

As to Mayor McGee's parentage, we understand his mother was a native of England, and as to the mayor himself, we understand he resides at home with his family as a respectable Irish should.

GEORGE HAMMOND, 1748 Port Street.

MEMORIES OF LONDON

To the Editor:—Ethel Seymour has written a poem about the Lord Mayor and the bells. It reminds me of "We're not greedy but we like a lot." I once saw London last Monday afternoon as I saw them all come out of the Cathedral here. Oh, how I love London, the city of my girlhood and later of my professional training!

The Mansion House used to be the busiest corner and my favorite spot in the big city. Many a time in my training days I have taken a ride on top of a bus to St. Paul's to see the London, the city of my girlhood and later of my professional training!

MARGARET BUSBY.

APPRECIATES PROTECTED BREAD

To the Editor:—A vote of thanks is due the bakeries of Victoria for the introduction here of wrapped bread. Many of us in medical work who know the dangers from dust and other dirt that clings to unwrapped bread welcome this improvement.

In this connection I am glad to note that most shops now display bakery products in glass cases, protected from the nasal and mouth sprays and the coughing of customers. I believe the health regulations require that such food stuffs be so protected. But I see still a few places where bakery products are placed on crowded counters to catch all the infections poured upon them by the public. Why is the health law not enforced?

A PROFITABLE INVESTMENT

From The Alaska Weekly
Alaska has been found to be a profitable investment, the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, announced here. Officials disclosed that it cost the United States $7,500,000 to buy the Territory from Russia, while American investors have taken out $698,628,000 in minerals since 1880.

A PRECAUTIONARY HINT

From The London Advertiser
We trust our communities will not jump to hasty conclusions just because a large addition is to be built at the local mental hospital.

Nature knows no pause in progress and development, and attaches her curse on all inaction. —Gothe.

Electric Nose

DEVELOPMENT of what he called an "electric nose," which detects poisonous mercury vapor in the air which the human nose can not smell, was explained by Dr. M. T. Gordon of the General Electric research laboratory.

The device detects one part of mercury vapor in 200,000,000 parts of air through the vapor is odorless, he said. The human nose can smell only one part of odor in over 1,000,000,000 parts of air but cannot detect odorless substances.

The electric nose, now in operation at the General Electric mercury power plant at Schenectady, N.Y., was developed by Dr. C. W. Hewlett. It consists of "electric eye," or photoelectric tube equipment, an invisible ultraviolet light source, and an alarm. The visible light is concentrated on the tube. Mercury particles passing through the air absorb the light. The more light absorbed, the more light shining into the "electric eye." It is possible to determine the amount of mercury in the air.

"Our device is able to sound an alarm when the concentration of mercury in the air is twenty times smaller than that at the danger point, and thus affords ample protection for situations in which the nose fails to warn us," Dr. Gordon said.

The complexity of factors involved in the sense of smell has thus far retarded the development of a truly-made nose, the scientist explained. But the success of the mercury detector encourages further work, he said.

IF I HAD LIVED

(Inspired by Gregory Clark's "Five Young Men")

On Vimy's slope I stood alone
In the twilight softly falling;
Out of the skies came a multitude
Of countless forms, joyously calling:

We have returned for this one day
Questing once more to live
The lives that we have thrown away:
Peace evermore to give.

IS I had lived, one soldier vowed (Twas one who fell in Flanders),
I'd raise pigs, horses, sheep and cows,
Chickens, fat geese and ganders.

Sons I would have, one softly said,
And daughters fair and clever,
Ah! 'Tis a pity I am dead,
That dream is gone forever.

I'd be an engineer, cried one,
My pockets empty, never!
For when one perfect job was done
I'd seek for fresh endeavor.

I would grow tons and tons of wheat
(Number four had joined the party),
I'd never want for food to eat.
With corn, rye, oats and barley.

Then spoke the youth who fell at Lens,
His face was thin and wan,
I'd sooner work with books and pens;
I'd be a business man.

But stay! Wait! What is this we see?
Rumors of war, drought, oppression!
Surely such tragedy cannot be;
And what means this word de-pression?

Who are those men digging there in the road?
Who those creatures standing in line?
Young faces, but old with the strain
Of their long, hard journey.

They might have been your sons or mine!
So this is the end of our one earthly quest;
We go, never more to return,
Sadly, silently, back to our heavenly rest.

Never more for this sad, world to yearn,
C. E. CHARTERS,
Sooke, B.C.

RED CROSS WORKSHOP

THE EASTERN WHIP-POOR-WILL

From The Toronto Daily Star

No doubt people who live in the country think nothing of it, but city people who go to the country for a couple of weeks or a month in the summer can never make out what the whip-poor-will means by the night-life he leads.

It is not difficult for any person to form a sort of theory as to the life of any of our native birds, but no amateur can readily account for the whip-poor-will. He makes it a point never to be seen by day and never to be silent by night. From dusk to cock-crow he shrills the night with his cry. Why does he shout so? Why does he never rest that he has shouted enough, and why does he not take a rest?

It used to be believed in Europe that the whip-poor-will milled goats, as was also charged against a variety of snakes, but these beliefs have been abandoned. Where a herd of goats is found at dusk whip-poor-wills are there, but experts say that it is the insects which fly about goats that attract the whip-poor-will. One could imagine a more attractive lot of insects obtainable elsewhere by a discriminating bird.

The whip-poor-will can sit in a tree a hundred yards from your bedroom window and about his cry sixty times to the minute for one hour, for two or three hours. It is only towards morning that he begins to get hoarse and to blur his notes. He does not relent. He is ruthless in keeping it up.

What does he get out of it? Why the mad and remorseless vocal industry of the whip-poor-will? He is of the fly-catcher family of birds, but his incessant outcry can scarcely attract flies, for he does not seem to pause long enough to eat. He is noisy in one place and in a moment he is equally noisy in another. How and why does he do it?

Still, it would be a pity if he didn't. The whip-poor-will convinces the city man that he is really in the country, far from the crowded and sordid haunts of man. He feels that if he cannot hear the whip-poor-will he is still too near the stock exchange and the voice of Big Ben on the City Hall. The city man for a change welcomes

CHILDREN NEED SCHOOL SHOES

Urgent Appeal Made Today By Relief Office Officials For Footwear

An urgent appeal was sent out today by E. G. Snowden, city relief officer, to citizens of more comfortable circumstances to assist those less fortunate in providing shoes and clothing for children returning to school next week.

At present the special department handling clothing for the needy has footwear for only a dozen youngsters. Within the next four months it is anticipated there will be appeals for a thousand pairs of shoes.

There is nothing like provision for that many today, nor is money available at present for the purchase of the footwear and clothing the children will require.

Anyone able to make a donation, either of shoes, children's trousers and other clothing, or money to buy those necessities, is requested to communicate as soon as possible with the relief office.

Construction of Big Gasoline Distribution Centre on Industrial Reserve Begun

A permit for the construction work for the Standard Oil Company of B.C. Limited distributing centre on the Industrial Reserve was made out by officials of the building inspector's department yesterday.

Work has already begun on the project which will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000, Luney Bros. Limited, contractors, announced today.

The construction will include a distributing warehouse, dockhouse, pump-house, five tanks and a concrete retaining wall, garage, wharf, gangway and float.

Announcement of their intention to build was made by the company some months ago when the city approved an application for a foreclosure lease.

U.S. SUPPLIES OF FOOD ARE AMPLE

Washington, Aug. 27. — Department of Agriculture economists yesterday said the drought would have little effect on United States food supplies from now until the end of next June.

A special survey of "the food situation" said "the supply of food available for domestic consumption will be almost as large as last year."

LET'S TAKE A VACATION

Mystery Of Red Snow Takes Tourists To The Forbidden Plateau

Mountains, Lakes, Ravines, Far in Hinterland of Vancouver Island

The Forbidden Plateau! What magic there is in the name! The lure of the unknown, the mystery of Indian tales and the indescribable beauty of mountains and lakes and ravines, far from the usual haunts of men. Such a combination calls to the imagination and makes the Plateau the scene of an ever-increasing band of holiday-seekers.

The Plateau lies cradled in a range of high mountains beyond the city of Courtenay in the Comox district of Vancouver Island. For years it was an arduous venture to explore its many wonders. It meant shouldering a pack, sleeping under the stars and climbing steep trails. Today there are two developed ways into the plateau country, both well defined and fairly easy to travel. One must still climb, of course, whether it be by motor, car, pack horse or on foot, but the rewards for the climb are well worth the effort.

NATURAL BEAUTY SUPREME

Here is a country of lush meadow land, heather and sweet-scented mountain flowers—of tall trees, so thick they cloak the hills like heavy fur; so straight they reach like fingers far into the sky. A country of many lakes and tiny lakelets, caught like iridescent bits of jewels in the folds of the hills. A country of mountains and silent peaks and the quietness of the great outdoors. There is the Cruickshanks Canyon, carved, it would seem, by the mighty stroke of an axe wielded by a giant hand. One side falls straight downward, 1,200 feet, to the meadows below. The other slopes away in a series of tree-crowned hills that climax in a range of snow-capped mountains high against the sky.

There is the wonder of the red snow, far up the slope of Mount Albert Edward. Rusty red patches that mark the virgin white—rust that turns to scarlet if a foot or hand is pressed hard on it. The red snow, found only in one or two places the whole world over, should in itself make the Forbidden Plateau famous.

CROTEAU'S CAMP

The Dove Creek trail to the Plateau climbs from a little north of Courtenay, through heavily-wooded country and over a series of high hills until it reaches Croteau Lake in the very midst of the plateau country. This trail must be taken on foot or by horseback. Horses may be hired at any time for the journey, and a pack train goes in over the trail a week.

At Croteau Lake, Eugene Croteau has established a modern up-to-date

Panorama of Lake and Mountains On Forbidden Plateau

camp. Sleeping accommodation is provided in good tents pitched near the edge of the lake. Plenty of blankets and waterproof sheets make sleeping in these tents a luxury. There is a log cabin dining-room where delicious fare is served to visitors. Mr. Croteau has traveled the trails of the Plateau for many years and his great knowledge of the country provides vacationists with much useful information. Guides are provided here and the visitor may roam from Croteau Camp to any point on the Plateau and return by nightfall, if so wished.

FORBIDDEN PLATEAU LODGE

The Bevan trail is becoming very popular with motorists. It provides a winding motor road, circling up in a series of curves until it almost reaches the summit of Mount Beecher, standing guard at the southern entrance to the plateau country. Here, at the end of the road, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Wood have established the Forbidden Plateau Lodge, a mountain inn of wide verandas, large living-room, huge stone fireplace and all the perfection of mountain hospitality.

It would be possible to remain at the Lodge and enjoy a marvelous vacation, but there are other treats in store. Clinton Wood has established two camps on the Plateau in connection with the Lodge, one at McKenzie Lake and the other at Lake Mariwood. Daily excursions are made from these camps to all points of interest.

Rest Haven Offers Quiet and Peace

Among the many holiday seekers who recently thronged the beaches and mountain places where others of the same mind sport and play, there are those few who look upon the yearly holiday as a time for rest, for relaxation, away from people, where it is peaceful and quiet.

For such as these, there is a quiet spot not so many miles from Victoria, situated on an almost landlocked bay, surrounded by great old maples and many shade trees. This is Rest Haven, far out on Roberts Bay, a little by-water at the very tip of the Saanich peninsula, just beyond Sidney.

ISLAND-LOCKED BAY

The big, rambling brown house called Rest Haven is really built on a tiny island. A rustic bridge connects it with the shore. Soft breezes play through the trees, the water is still and calm, and warm swimming if one so desires. There are forty charming rooms, a beautiful lounge and spacious dining-room. There is an excellent cuisine and all modern conveniences.

At Rest Haven, too, medical attention can be found. Hydrotherapy, electrotherapy and massage is part of the very fine equipment to be found there.

Changed His Mind!

It was the regular business meeting of the colored Sons of I Will Arise, and they had just finished the programme proper when loud and clear from the back of the hall came a voice:

"Mistah Chayman, Ah makes a mashum dat Sam Jackson am a dirty, low-down, sneakin' chinking-thief." Down in front a wild-eyed darkey of middle size bounded to his feet, glared around the room and demanded:

"Who made dat moshum dat Ah'm a low-down, chinking-thief?"

In the back of the room a huge, black, evil-eyed, scar-faced darkey rose slowly to his feet and cast those menacing eyes on Sam Jackson.

"Ah makes dat moshum," he thundered.

"Mistah Chayman," said Sam, "Ah sekunds dat moshum."

"You can't say I made any noise coming home last night."

Miss Helen Harris, who has been spending her summer holidays in Victoria with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Harris, Port Street, left this morning for the mainland on her way to Penticton, where she has accepted a position on the staff of the public school there.

Mrs. P. Moore, formerly Miss Monie Baling of Victoria, was the guest of honor at a kitchen shower given in Vancouver recently by Mrs. R. Lawson and Miss G. Moyes. Gifts were presented to the bride by little Della Rees and Phyllis Moyes. Mrs. C. Gillingham and Mrs. M. Moyes assisted in serving the guests, who numbered eighteen.

Superiority Complex Wrong

Mrs. J. D. Gordon Tells W. I. Canadians Should Study Others

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Aug. 27.—Canadian women should get rid of their superiority complex of country, and would do well to emulate the United States in the sending of supervised groups of young people to study the accomplishments of other countries, said Mrs. J. D. Gordon of Victoria yesterday in her presidential address at the fourth biennial convention of British Columbia Women's Institutes. "All this would make for a greater international understanding," she said.

PLEA FOR TEACHERS
Mrs. Gordon made a plea for more co-operation and kindness toward young inexperienced teachers who took their first schools in rural districts. In this connection school inspectors came in for some criticism—"too often a destructive criticism can utterly damn a teacher, who otherwise with kindly instruction would evolve into a very fine teacher." She voiced the opinion that more attention should be given to sports at school as these developed the characteristics of fair play, honor and honesty in children—these being more important than academic training.

She commended the government service given to country fairs—especially those departments concerning men's work; but deplored the lack of trained women judges for women's work.

CHARITY BEGINS AT HOME

Mrs. Gordon protested against the large sums of money donated by Women's Institutes to other organizations over which they had no control. In two years the Women's Institutes of Canada had given approximately $286,000 to other associations. She urged that delegates see that their own branch and provincial work was financed more soundly before giving to other causes. Women's Institutes were not money-making groups, she declared.

She pointed out the disadvantages of officers remaining too long in office and of the perennial delegate. Many women were capable of being excellent officers if only given a chance.

The delegates were welcomed also by Mrs. H. McGregor of Penticton, provincial representative on the National W.I. Board.

Mrs. Alfred Watt, M.B.E., president of the Associated Countrywomen of the World, was a distinguished guest on the platform.

This is the first convention of British Columbia Institutes since 1927. The convention adjourned early to permit the delegates to see the parade which was opening the Canadian Pacific exhibition.

Moose Silver Tea Success

With individual tables, artistically arranged with flowers, the K. of P. Hall, 1415 Broad Street, lent a charming setting for the successful silver tea held Monday evening by the Victoria Chapter No. 25 Women of the Moose, Senior Regent P. Ruckin.

On behalf of the chapter, and in gratitude of her two years as senior regent, Mrs. E. Jane was also presented with a standard lamp by the senior regent, P. Ruckin. Community singing was enjoyed, also songs, "Smiling Through" and "Danny Boy," sung by Enid Middleton.

Mr. W. Kettle, dictator of Lodge 1390, and third vice-president of Northwest Moose Association, invited members and friends to a picnic to be held Sunday, August 30, at Mount Douglas Park, in honor of visiting members from Port Angeles and Nanaimo. He also told of the coming visit of Mr. G. F. Poole, a distinguished official in the order, who will attend a special meeting on Monday evening, August 31. It will be open to everyone.

A hearty welcome was extended to senior regent of Nanaimo Chapter No. 197, Mrs. Clarkson, who stated her chapter hoped to pay Victoria a visit in the next month. Those helping with supper were: Mesdames M. Robertson and I. Guelph.

At 7:30 o'clock a short meeting was held, with Senior Regent P. Ruckin presiding. Sick matron, Mrs. R. Panting, and various committees gave splendid reports. A letter was received from Lodge 1390, giving details of Sunday's picnic, a sit-down lunch to be served at Mount Douglas Park, the chapter committee to meet for arranging for serving and obtaining the food. Information in regards to picnic may be obtained from Mrs. K. Hatcher, E. 3439, chapter chairman, and Mr. Sid Hunt, lodge chairman.

Women Discuss Health Insurance Conditions

Peace River Delegates at W.I. Conference Voice Objections to Scheme; Dr. Peebles Bombarded With Questions at Vancouver Gathering

Vancouver, Aug. 27.—Provocative of lively discussion at the Women's Institute convention in session in this city were two addresses given yesterday, one by Dr. H. B. King on "Educational Reorganization" and another by Dr. Allan Peebles on "Health Insurance."

Dr. Peebles was bombarded with a host of questions on health insurance, several delegates disapproving strongly of its compulsion in certain industries. "There are two solutions," said Dr. Peebles, "that either the government or the community should pay the whole bill. Would you agree to this, which would mean increased taxation?"

In reply to this a delegate from Peace River stated that no old-timers were on relief in that country, that they would probably be willing to pay, yet it was hard to put their hands in their pockets for newcomers who often sat down and made no attempt to help themselves, while the pioneers who had walked into the country had almost counted the grains of rice or peas in their soup.

EXAMINATION LESSENED
"It is harder to get rid of the examination influence in the modern curriculum, than to remove a graveyard," said Dr. King, when describing the education reorganization of the province. "In the past education has been primarily for examination and all this is to be changed. Nothing has been introduced that was not well tested or approved, and many improvements were made, especially for rural districts."

The new curriculum would include more hand work in the first six grades; compulsory manual training and household economics in grades seven and eight; a more teachable course in music; an elementary science course closely related to environment, this founded on the principle of teaching a child that which related to its actual life, as otherwise it was verbal and meaningless; and carefully graded courses on mental, social and moral health.

General approval was expressed at the lessening of examinations. Dr. King described in detail the Abbottsford-Sumas-Matquah combination of school districts and its attendant benefits.

"British Columbia has been the forerunner of several public health schemes accepted as a basis of work in other provinces and several states of the union," said Dr. H. E. Young, provincial health secretary, in an address on "Health Services."

Other speakers were: Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan, superintendent of Women's Institutes, who explained their origin and governing principles; Mrs. Paul Smith, M.P.P., who welcomed them on behalf of Vancouver; Mrs. H. J. Montgomery of Wetaskiwin, a past president of Alberta Women's Institutes, who brought greetings from that organization; Mrs. M. E. Noble, Hatzic, provincial vice-president, presided.

GEOGHEGAN—DOUGLAS
In the presence of immediate relatives, a quiet wedding was solemnized at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning at the First United Church, when Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, united in marriage Ellen Grace Douglas, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Douglas, Victoria, and Mr. E. F. Geoghegan, only son of Dr. and Mrs. P. J. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ethel Douglas, and Mr. Albert Martin supported the groom. Following a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Geoghegan will take up residence at Eastsound, Wash.

In honor of Dr. Regent P. Ruckin and past regent E. Jane, who celebrated their birthdays on the same date, a large birthday cake was lighted and presented to them with the best of wishes, each responding.

On behalf of the chapter, and in gratitude of her two years as senior regent, Mrs. E. Jane was also presented with a standard lamp by the senior regent, P. Ruckin. Community singing was enjoyed, also songs, "Smiling Through" and "Danny Boy," sung by Enid Middleton.

Heather Day Raised $84.15

Heather Day was held yesterday by the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E., and the sum of $84.15 was realized. The chapter decided to express thanks to the public for its interest and support, also to the band of willing workers who did their work faithfully and gratuitously under the able convener'ship of Mrs. Pottinger.

Thanks were also expressed to Messrs. H. H. H. and H. H. H. for the loan of headquarters for the day. The register was signed by a good number of overseas men, among whom was one who still treasures his original piece of heather, presented to him twenty-two years ago by Mrs. R. B. McEllicking, and who again welcomed the visitors at headquarters yesterday.

A wreath was made and placed on the war memorial by members of the Lady Douglas Girl Guide Troop, and bouquets of heather were presented to the press, and a donation of heather made to the Burns Club.

Money Cannot Buy Her Bathing Pool

Associated Press
Honolulu, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Doris Duke Cromwell, one of the richest girls in the world, cannot have a swimming pool which she wished built in the surf opposite the home site she purchased recently at Kala-awai, outside Honolulu.

The board of harbor commissioners voted three to two to refuse her permission to construct a seawall and pool on the grounds it would be illegal to give a private grant or monopoly on shore and its lands, "which are a public trust."

Noted Social Worker Dies

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, fifty-four, noted social worker who served a prison term to gain first-hand knowledge of penal conditions, died yesterday.

After Mrs. Huck had served a year in the United States Congress, running out her father's term after he died, she turned shoplifter by pre-arrangement and went to Marysville Prison, Ohio. Only her husband and the then Governor Donahay of Ohio knew of her plan.

Under an assumed name, Mrs. Huck remained in Marysville a month before Donahay put through a pardon. She complied for the governor a list of recommendations for the improvements of prisons. She said of that experience:

"On the whole these women—thieves and murderers though they are—are affectionate, kind and easy to get along with. They do wrong not for wrong's sake, but because they never have learned the value or necessity of self-control."

MRS. ALFRED WATT TO SPEAK HERE

Mrs. Alfred Watt, M.B.E., of London, England, president of the Associated Countrywomen of the World, and founder of the Victoria Women's Institute, will address the Institute at its next meeting, Friday, September 1, when members of other Institutes will be welcomed. Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The affection which children lavish on some one toy is often a cause of anxiety to mothers. Children have "beloved" blankets, or some greasy bear without which they cannot close an eye. Inevitably children outgrow these devotions without doing any noticeable damage.

"My little boy," write Mrs. W. M. R., "has a rag rabbit which has been his toy for two years. It sleeps, eats and rides with him, in fact is his most constant companion."

"Now he seems to have vested it with personality and talks about it as if it were human. Is this taking the place of the imaginary companion which children often have?"

AN INFANTILE HABIT?

I have not tried to discourage this as I feared to do more harm than good. But is it anything to be alarmed about and does it indicate that he is clinging to infantile habits too long? It seems silly for a boy to be so devoted to a doll.

Imaginary companions are the so-called of lonely children and there is nothing dangerous in such devotion, nor any threat to development—but it does indicate the necessity for more real live-pets and human companions.

The rag rabbit would be poor competition in any little boy's affection with a real live rabbit, or a loving little dog. Try one or the other for him and watch the rag rabbit lose prestige.

HE NEEDS PLAYMATES

Encourage other children to play with him. He needs children to stimulate his interest in things outside himself. Rag rabbits are too submissive. He needs the salutary conflicts which he can get from real girls and boys of his own age.

Don't antagonize him by taking the rabbit away, just replace it in his affections with other objects of greater developmental value and more enduring interest.

Thumb sucking may just be another child's "rag rabbit." Readers may have leaflet, "Thumb Sucking," by sending a self-addressed, 3-cent stamped envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, of the Your Baby and Mine department of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: By the end of first year, baby should be learning to use a spoon.

LANGFORD

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Glendenning, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Moir, Langford Lake, for the last month, will leave on Thursday for Vancouver. After visiting Niagara Falls and the Great Lakes, they will leave Montreal on board the St. Duchesne of Richmond early in September to their home in Arbroath, Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville Bothwell, who have been on a motor trip to southern California, have returned to Bon-Accord, Langford Lake.

LOCAL SCHOOL HAS BIRTHDAY

Sprott-Shaw Business College Enters Twenty-fourth Year in City

The first Shaw School was established in Stratford, Ont., on January 1, 1887, almost fifty years ago; the first Sprott-Shaw School was established in Vancouver thirty-three years ago, and the Victoria school was opened by its present manager, James H. Beatty, twenty-three years ago.

Since this time, thousands of pupils have taken courses of training in this well-established and efficiently-operated Victoria school.

In 1920 the school moved to its new premises, which were specially built for it, and where it is now situated, on Douglas Street. The premises are ideally located, well lighted and well ventilated, with open air on four sides of the building, with the addition of mechanically-forced ventilation.

The school is a member of the only recognized association of efficient commercial schools in Canada—the Business Educators' Association. Any school which has suitable and complete equipment, qualified and competent staff, whose records show that the school is efficiently operated, and whose business reputation is good, will be admitted to membership. This Association keeps abreast of the times, and sets the examinations for the students. The graduates of the Sprott-Shaw School are given the Business Educators' Association's diploma, which is recognized from one end of Canada to the other.

The Sprott-Shaw Schools are the originators of the method of individual instruction, by which each student progresses according to his talents and his industry. Each student is encouraged to do his very best work, and the length of his course depends entirely upon his ability and the energy applied. Sprott-Shaw graduates are employed in almost every office in Victoria. There are a great many employed in the Parliament Buildings and in the federal Civil Service Department (both the inside and outside services). In the recent federal examination for stenographers, under the Dominion Civil Service, Sprott-Shaw pupils were singularly successful. Out of the hundred who passed highest, thirteen came from British Columbia, of whom seven were from Victoria. Six of the seven took their courses at Sprott-Shaw, and the seventh was coached by this school.

The school has courses in all branches of commercial subjects, including stenography, general business, higher accounting, secretarial, and business administration. It also has special preparatory and radio-telegraphy courses. The radio course is the training for the Dominion Government operator's certificate.

The classes are in session daily from 9 to 4.30 o'clock, and during the winter months, evening classes are held two evenings a week from 7 to 9.30 o'clock. Full particulars can be had by application to the school office.

Tomato Control Board Returned

The men who control the British Columbia tomato and cucumber industry will continue the office for the third successive year. George W. Riddle, Quan Yuen Yen, and Murdoch Dingwall were returned to the board by substantial majorities and in one case acclamation, according to information received from A. E. Horner, returning officer today.

Mr. Riddle received fifty-four votes against twenty-four for William J. Dunn, and Mr. Quan balloted fifty-three votes to twenty-five for Lum Young Chow.

Mr. Dingwall, who had represented mainland producers on the marketing board, was returned by acclamation. Altogether 106 ballots were issued on the island, according to Mr. Horner. Eighty-three were returned and five of these were spoiled.

COUNTS TRICKS FIRST

Declarer Makes Contract Other Players Missed, by Ruffing Side Suit With High Trumps

By WM. E. McKENNEY

While good bridge is far from being all mathematics, no one ever can become a good bridge player unless he learns to count at least up to the number of tricks necessary to fulfill his contract. This inventory of resources should be made before a card is played from dummy, and again before the next lead is made, to be sure the count is correct.

Following this simple rule will provide a way to make many close contracts that otherwise would be lost. It was the reason why Louis J. Haddad of Chicago made top score on today's hand, which was played recently in an important Chicago tournament.

Haddad, former president of the American Bridge League, will be among the master players present at the summer session of the National Championship Tournament at Asbury Park, N.J.

SOLUTION OF PREVIOUS CONTRACT PROBLEM

When the opening lead was made, it was apparent to Haddad that there were two methods of playing the hand. First was to draw trumps, depending on a three-three trump

CHILDREN TO SHOW CATTLE

Special Section for Junior Exhibitors in Victoria's Fall Fair

In an effort to increase the interest of young people in matters agricultural and particularly those related to stock, special classes for children have been included in the list of competitions arranged for Victoria's fall fair under the auspices of the British Columbia Agricultural Association at the Willows from September 12 to 19.

To stimulate that interest a special grant has been offered by the Dominion Government to assist in the work.

Hon. S. F. Tolmie, president of the exhibition; Dr. W. R. Gunn, livestock commissioner; R. G. Sutton, district agriculturist; T. G. Stewart, livestock promoter for the federal Department of Agriculture, and John C. Berry of the University of British Columbia, have been named a special committee in charge of the junior entries.

Any boy or girl between twelve and twenty-one, who is a member of any pig or calf club in British Columbia, is eligible to enter.

SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS
Accommodation for the housing and dining of entries, arrangements for chaperons and provision for feeding and transporting animals is cared for without charge to the entries.

Classes for which an excellent prize list has been arranged include Ayrshire heifers, Gurnsey heifers, Holstein heifers, Jersey heifers, Berkshire, Yorkshire and Tamworth sows and bacon and butcher hogs.

Another contest is open to all heifer and calf clubs in the province in which not less than seven animals exhibited in other sections are shown. The children's section also covers stock judging for boys and girls of different ages, cattle showmanship and rope halter making. The last three contests will be held during September 17 and 18.

STORIES IN STAMPS

REVOLT AGAINST IGNORANCE

For 300 years, up to the beginning of the nineteenth century, Guatemala was kept in ignorance, under oppression. Ruled by Spanish governors, the native Guatemalans heard nothing of the revolutions in France, the United States and South America.

But gradually news of freedom gained in other Spanish dependencies seeped into Guatemala, and the people became restless. They were appeased first by promises that were not kept, then by offers of amnesty to political rebels. Still the Guatemalans grew bolder. In 1811, a small force revolted in San Salvador, the capital. But all other cities remained loyal to Spain, and the revolt was suppressed. Other attempts were quelled, and many insurgents were sentenced to death. But fear of further revolt kept the governor from executing the rebels.

The tide of revolt, by that time, became overpowering, and even the new governor, Gavino Gaiña, went over to the independents. In 1821, he called a meeting of citizens in Guatemala City, where resulted the "Act of Independence," in a scene shown on a stamp issued by Guatemala in 1907.

IRISH BRIGADE FOR SPAIN'S WAR

Canadian Press from Havas
Dublin, Aug. 27.—An Irish brigade of 5,000 volunteers was prepared today to sail for Spain in response to an appeal from Gen. Eoin O'Duffy, leader of Ireland's Greenshirts, for recruits to fight in the ranks of the Spanish rebels. It was learned from reliable sources.

REBEL PLANES BOMB MADRID

Damage Claimed Slight; One Machine Shot Down by Loyalists

Associated Press
London, Aug. 27.—Rebel airplanes bombed Madrid Wednesday night, private unconfirmed information that reached London tonight asserted. Damage to Madrid was said to have been slight.

In Madrid an official government communiqué said a rebel airplane had been shot down by machine-gun fire in a frustrated attempt to bomb Madrid.

The secret advice which reached London said the rebels were advancing on Madrid from the south.

Spanish censors suppressed a portion of the following dispatch: Madrid, Aug. 27.—An official government communiqué today announced a rebel airplane, falling in an attempted raid on Madrid, had been shot down by machine-gun fire.

The plane appeared over the city at dawn, the official version said, apparently intending to bomb Madrid's air bases.

Loyal planes, taking the air in pursuit, "forced the enemy ship to change its course and drop its bombs harmlessly in a patch of stubble, causing neither personal nor material damage," the government announcement stated.

"The enemy plane... was brought down by the machine-gun fire of our heroic aviators."

Associated Press
Burgos, Spain, Aug. 27.—Gen. Emilio Mola's rebel troops drove their lines three miles closer to Madrid today after five days of bloody fighting.

The troops captured important positions on Cerro Negro, dominating the Losoya Valley, about forty miles north of the capital.

The Losoya River, rising in the Guadarrama Mountains, is the source of Madrid's water supply.

Rebel officers contended the victory gave them a "clear road" into the capital.

REBEL SOLDIERS SLAIN
Madrid, Aug. 27 (Canadian Press from Havas).—Rifles troops fighting in the insurgent ranks, angered by disciplinary action taken against them by rebel officers, revolted and have already killed 150 white rebel troops in a series of clashes, reports circulating here today said.

The fierce desert warriors, taken to task by the white insurgent officers for pillaging churches and sacking the homes of the rich landowners and merchants, replied by opening fire on white rebel troops, the correspondent of the newspaper Politics reported.

CHANGES SIDES
Valadolid, Spain, Aug. 27.—Rebel reports today declared 1,000 loyalist troops had joined them with a quantity of armaments on the Cordoba front.

Gen. Quispe de Llano, broadcasting from Seville, asserted only nineteen provinces remained in the hands of the government.

SEEK UNITY OF ACTION
Madrid, Aug. 27.—Spanish Socialist government, consolidating positions on the far-flung battlefields of the civil war, mapped plans today for organizing the army under "single leadership."

Unity of action was sought by the government.

(Unconfirmed dispatches from Madrid have said disunion among army officers and the War Ministry hampered vigorous assault against Fascist rebels. Apparently the plan announced today sought to overcome this difficulty and co-ordinate militia, regular army troops, miners and peasants into a unified force.)

Seventeen Capitals in Europe Hear British and French Representations; No Time Should be Lost in Stopping All Arms Shipments to Spain

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, Aug. 27.—In seventeen European capitals the British and French governments today were making "urgent representations" that a ban shall immediately be placed on the export of arms and ammunition to Spain. The ban proposed includes airplanes of all types.

The capitals are Rome, the Hague, Brussels, Vienna, Budapest, Belgrade, Bucharest, Sofia, Ankara, Athens, Warsaw, Riga, Stockholm, Copenhagen, Oslo, Helsinki and Prague.

PORTUGAL AGREES
One success already has been scored. Sir Charles Wingfield, British ambassador at Lisbon, was instructed yesterday to urge the Portuguese government to impose the ban. Portugal lately has been much in the news as the back door of the arms runners to Spain. Portugal now has replied that she is prepared to impose the ban.

Great Britain, France, Germany and Russia have bans in force. Today's representations, if successful, will therefore bring every European country like to export arms within the scope of the agreement.

The argument used in each capital was practically identical—agreement has been in principle on a "ban on Spain" understanding. The time has come to implement the principle with practice.

COMMITTEE PLAN
The French government also has proposed the creation of an international committee to collate the steps taken to enforce the ban and deal with any further measures in connection with it. Britain is supporting the proposal. The committee probably will meet in London.

It is not proposed that application of the ban shall await appointment of a committee. The plan rather is that the ban shall go into effect forthwith, with the committee considering details and possible extension afterwards.

It is suggested the committee might well consider the plan drawn up by ambassadors to Spain at Hendaye, on the French border, for ending war atrocities in Spain.

During the afternoon, the Spanish ambassador called at the Foreign Office, and it was believed he was acquainted with the new move for a general European embargo.

Canadian Press from Havas
Ankara, Aug. 27.—The Turkish government today was pledged to a "hands-off-Spain" pact in view of the present exceptional circumstances. Ankara, however, informed Paris it was not to be considered a precedent governing Turkey's action in the future when asked for aid by a legally constituted government.

Under the bill no person shall be entitled to recover any interest at a higher rate than the one prescribed and no action shall be brought or maintained in any court of the province for the purpose of enforcing any foreign judgment founded on any such authority.

STRIKE IS SETTLED
Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 27 (Canadian Press).—J. H. Septon, general manager of the Dominion Glass Company plant here, announced today settlement of the strike which had continued at the plant for a week.

Some workers returned to their jobs at midnight, while others returned today. He said some readjustments in pay were being made.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 27.—Chengtu authorities executed two alleged ringleaders of Monday's rioting, Chinese reports said here today, while Japanese asserted the bodies of their two slain countrymen were found outside the city walls.

The Japanese said Chinese had rioted in Chengtu in Szechwan province, to prevent the re-opening of a Japanese consulate there, killing the two Japanese and wounding others.

Six policemen were reported killed seeking to restrain the Chengtu mob. Five of the rioters were said to have died in Monday's rioting.

Smuggling of Japanese goods into North China continued unabated, nearly causing an international incident at Tientsin when a crowd of Japanese sought to prevent the Chinese customs from confiscating 2,000 bags of smuggled sugar.

ROOSEVELT AND LONDON TOURING
Bismarck, N.D., Aug. 27.—President Roosevelt arrived in Bismarck today for his first official stop in a 3,500-mile "first hand" inspection tour of the great western "dust bowl," which probably will be interrupted as a result of the death of Secretary of War Dern.

Aboard Landon Train En Route to Topeka, Kansas, Aug. 27.—Gov. Alf M. Landon left behind him a charge of "wasteful" new deal spending and "scooped" tax legislation as he swept through Illinois today on a schedule of ten rear platform appearances and a visit to Abraham Lincoln's tomb.

The Republican nominee was speeding toward Topeka on the return leg of his first presidential campaign invasion of the east.

U.S. FLIER IN NAVY COURT

Lieut. W. A. Moffett Charged With Losing Confidential Papers

Associated Press
Washington, Aug. 27.—Lieut. William A. Moffett, charged with losing confidential naval documents, has been court-martialed by the United States navy.

This was learned authoritatively today although findings of the court-martial, which was conducted with great secrecy last May, have not been disclosed.

Moffett, an aviator stationed at the naval air station here, is the son of the late Rear-Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, who went to his death in the crash of the dirigible Akron.

FOR EXAMINATIONS
The officer drew the documents from navy files to aid him in preparing for examinations for promotion. Navy officials said it was customary for officers to be given permission to use confidential files when studying for examinations.

The missing papers were said to have been placed in Moffett's automobile, whence they disappeared in some manner not known either to authorities or to Moffett.

The nature of the documents was a closely guarded secret, although there was said to include confidential publications used in signal work.

TO VALIDATE INTEREST CUT

Alberta Legislature to Give Second Reading to Measure Today

Edmonton, Aug. 27.—Halved interest rates on Alberta's $100,000,000 debt, authorized in an order-in-council passed last May 30, will be validated in a bill introduced by Hon. W. A. Pellow, Minister of Public Works, at the present special session of the Alberta Legislature.

The bill, given first reading yesterday, is scheduled for second reading today.

The order-in-council reduced from an average of 4.98 per cent to an average of 2.5 per cent interest accruing after June 1, 1936, on all debentures, stock, treasury bills and savings certificates issued by the province with the exception of $7,400,000 5 per cent debentures of the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway.

Under the bill no person shall be entitled to recover any interest at a higher rate than the one prescribed and no action shall be brought or maintained in any court of the province for the purpose of enforcing any foreign judgment founded on any such authority.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—General Motors Corporation announced today it will build immediately one of the largest assembly plants for passenger cars in the world at Linden, N.J.

Completed, it will cost $5,575,000. The new unit will have a normal capacity of 120,000 cars a year. Approximately 2,000 persons will be employed.

TRADERS NEEDED
The Reichsbank president was represented as picturing German prosperity as the best guarantee of European peace and hinting that a prosperous Germany would be much less a menace to France than a Germany driven to desperation by economic hardships.

If France opened her frontier to more German products, the "argument was advanced, the Reich would be enabled to divert her energy from armaments to commercial manufactures."

SOVIET FACT
German belief that the French erred grievously in binding themselves to Russia with a mutual assistance pact was expressed, reliable informants stated.

Some circles said Schacht was ready to offer France "important concessions" for abandonment of the Russian pact.

Emile Labeyrie, governor of the Bank of France, will go to London to talk with Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, after the Schacht conference is completed, informed sources indicated.

MESSAGE FROM HITLER
This declaration, informed circles said, was given to Premier Blum and Foreign Minister Yvon Delbois during a luncheon at the Bank of France and was a personal message from Chancellor Hitler to the French government indicating the German prolongation of army service was undertaken only because of the recently announced increase in the Russian

HEALTH PLAN TO BE READY SOON

Weir Forecasts Insurance Scheme Will be in Effect Throughout B.C. by New Year

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Aug. 27.—A forecast that British Columbia's health insurance scheme would be in operation by Christmas or very soon afterwards, was left by Provincial Secretary George M. Weir with the electorate of Vancouver-Burrard today.

Speaking in support of J. Howard Forster, Liberal candidate in the forthcoming Burrard by-election, Dr. Weir firmly defended the health legislation that he sponsored in the Legislature and said:

"I would rather go down to defeat on health insurance than win without it."

Eighty per cent of the questionnaires sent to employers in connection with the health insurance plan had been returned, Dr. Weir said.

READY FOR AMENDMENTS
The Provincial Secretary said it was quite likely the act would have to be amended from year to year, as was the case in other countries where similar legislation had been passed.

The Finance Minister at present was studying the position of indigents under the act with a view to future legislation, he said.

"I believe," he asserted, "that the future will justify my action." It might be several years before the "true story is told," but he was prepared to take the consequences whatever they might be. "I come out of this with a clear conscience," he said.

GRANTS OBTAINED
Dr. Weir said his frequent trips to the east were justified by their results. Obtaining large grants in aid of provincial services had made these journeys worth while, he said, and added that he expected to make another shortly.

The Provincial Secretary reported good progress in physical and recreational education projects and said he expected to see an enrollment of close to 2,500—mostly from the unemployed—after the plan had been in operation longer.

Close to $150,000 would be expended in equipping a new tuberculosis wing at the Vancouver General Hospital, in addition to the construction cost of $200,000, the minister said.

Mr. and Mrs. McMillan state that this was the greatest fishing trip they have ever had, and they have fished in Florida, Hawaiian and other internationally-known fishing grounds.

BRIDGE WORK TO BE SPEEDED

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Aug. 27.—Announcement that contract arrangements had been made for the construction of all sub-structure of the First Narrows bridge and the approach road through Stanley Park was issued today by A. J. Taylor, president of the company undertaking the building of the vast span.

Preliminary construction would start as soon as the first fall rains remove the fire hazard arising out of clearing operations, it was announced.

New Moves In Seattle Strike

But Labor Council Does Not Remove P.-I. from Its "Unfair List"

Associated Press
Seattle, Aug. 27.—The Seattle Central Labor Council stood pat today on its listing of The Seattle Post-Intelligencer as "unfair to organized labor" and in supporting the newspaper strike of the American Newspaper Guild.

Although the strike, which closed the newspaper August 14, was discussed at the regular meeting of the council last night, there was no shift in position relative to a picket line which blocked members of the printing trades unions from entering the plant.

REPORT TO A.F. OF L.
Rowland Watson, American Federation of Labor representative here, concluded an investigation into circumstances under which the council placed the newspaper on the "unfair" list while printing trades unions held contracts with it. Watson said his report would be made direct to William Green, president of the A.F. of L.

Fifty Pacific northwest newspaper publishers, meeting here, endorsed a resolution of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association protesting to Green "the lawless acts of certain affiliates of the A.F. of L. at Seattle," and pointing out "that such action, if condoned by the A.F. of L., means a great loss of confidence in all contracts with union labor."

LAW AND ORDER LEAGUE
Jonathan Eddy, New York, executive secretary of the American Newspaper Guild, in a radio speech, described the newly-organized "Law and Order League" as being fostered by The Post-Intelligencer's owner, William Randolph Hearst. He said any "riot" around the plant would be caused by the Hearst executives and the league.

A group of 100 business men organized the Law and Order League, with C. Kirk Hillman, Seattle, temporary chairman, and a "secret six" committee was named, pledged not to interfere in labor disputes except "when threats, coercion, violence and other illegal means and methods enter into them."

Executives of The Post-Intelligencer took issue with Mayor John F. Dore's statement that no mob violence had occurred during the strike.

"It is a story of beatings by picket guards administered to loyal employees," The Post-Intelligencer statement said in part. "It is a story of intimidation and threats of gang violence."

It listed twelve men beaten by pickets, nine of them Post-Intelligencer employees, and charged apathy on the part of police detailed to preserve order.

FAVOR BRIDGE OF CONCRETE

Animo, Aug. 27.—Property owners of Nanaimo on Wednesday voted in favor of a concrete structure to replace the Bastion Street bridge, which has been closed since it was condemned last May.

The concrete bridge was favored, 300 to 101, a total of 403 ballots being cast during the twelve hours that the polls were open.

It was the highest poll remembered by city officials. Eighteen hundred and fifty were eligible to vote.

There was no doubt about which type of bridge was favored from the opening count.

A money bylaw to raise the necessary $42,250 for the reinforced concrete structure must now be prepared by the council. Ten days must then elapse before it can be voted on and a three-fifths majority is necessary for it to pass.

Harry H. Woodring, assistant secretary, will assume the duties of acting secretary pending an appointment by President Roosevelt.

George Henry Dern, who left the Governor's chair in Utah to become United States Secretary of War, brought to the Roosevelt cabinet an advocacy of preparedness for national defense although he declared himself "no militarist."

War Spurs Spanish Ingenuity

The poorly-equipped warriors of the Spanish Loyalist ranks have demonstrated ingenuity in inventing war equipment. Mattresses and crates armor a confiscated car (above) against the shots of snipers in upper windows as militiamen drive it around Barcelona. Below, a "tank" was improvised by troops for the attack on Zaragoza by padding an old truck with mattresses and boards.

COMMUNIST IS BARRED BY U.S.

W. Gallacher, British M.P., Now in Alberta, is Refused Permit

Associated Press

Washington, Aug. 27.—The United States government has refused to permit William Gallacher, a communist member of the British parliament, to enter this country.

This was confirmed at the State Department today when the American Civil Liberties Union made public a protest over the refusal of the department to grant a temporary visa to Gallacher, said now to be travelling in Canada.

The action was taken, it was explained, under the United States immigration act prohibiting entry of persons who are members of groups that have as their object the overthrow of organized governments by force and violence.

NOW AT BLAINMORE

Canadian Press
Calgary, Aug. 27.—William Gallacher, communist member of the British House of Commons, denied entry to the United States, he believed here today to be in Blainmore, communist-controlled coal mining town in southern Alberta.

Mr. Gallacher, in an address here Tuesday evening, discussed the policies of the Alberta Social Credit government. The administration, he said, must draw up a programme before it could expect the support of workers, and added, "You don't need to follow an illusion."

"Assurance of Prosperity" certificates, the British labor leader said, was not a solution for the present problems facing the people.

He was tendered a dinner here following his address by Calgary members of the Community Party. He was thought to have left for Blainmore yesterday and could not be reached immediately for comment on the Washington dispatch today which said he had been refused a temporary visa to enter the United States.

NO SPEECHES

The Civil Liberties Union's letter received today by Secretary Hull, asked that the department consider its action and issue a visa to Gallacher on the ground he did not intend to engage in political activities in the United States, and particularly because he is a member of a legislative body.

The union's letter added that this was the first occasion of its kind since Secretary Kellogg in 1925 refused to admit Shapurji Saklatvala, also a communist member of the British parliament, to attend a conference of the inter-parliamentary Union in this country.

LIBERAL WINS QUEBEC RECOUNT

Canadian Press

Montreal, Aug. 27.—C. A. Bertrand, Attorney-General in the defeated coalition government, was declared elected to the Quebec Legislative Assembly today by a majority of four votes at the close of a judicial recount of ballots cast in Montreal-Laurier during Quebec's provincial election, August 17.

Bertrand defeated Dr. Zenon Levesque, Union Nationale candidate. Total votes after the recount were 3,473 for Bertrand and 3,458 for Levesque.

Attorneys for the Union Nationale claimed the ballots were invalidated because the printer's name was missing, but the presiding judge, Mr. Justice Philippe Demers, overruled the contention.

Election of Mr. Bertrand reduced the Union Nationale majority in the Legislative Assembly to 62 and left the standing: Union Nationale 76, Liberal 14, total 90.

ELEVEN HURT IN EXPLOSION

Halifax Yacht Blows Up in Harbor and Six Passengers Hurlled Into Water

Canadian Press

Halifax, Aug. 27.—Eleven persons injured yesterday evening when J. C. MacKen's schooner yacht Kinrara was wrecked by explosion and fire would recover. Two children, only slightly burned, had been taken to their homes, and the others were progressing favorably.

Six were hurled into Halifax harbor by the blast. Five others were trapped by flames until a motor launch took them off.

Flames quickly spread over the fifty-foot pleasure craft and those aboard were badly burned. All eleven persons were taken to hospital after being saved from the burning hulk of the vessel.

Condition of two of the women, Mrs. David MacKen of Ottawa and Mrs. Harry N. MacKen of Halifax, daughter of Hon. L. P. D. Tilley of Saint John, N.B., was said to be "grave."

The first-awakened yacht, formerly known as Buccar II, was owned by John C. MacKen of Halifax.

It had been cruising about the harbor and had just completed refueling, the lines having been cast off. David MacKen turned the key in the ignition switch and the next instant flames sprayed over the deck, enveloping the children.

Thrown into the water, Mrs. J. C. MacKen and Mrs. David MacKen, formerly of Halifax but now a resident of Ottawa, each grasped two of the children as they splashed about. They held them above water until help came.

The yacht had just turned out from the Imperial Oil plant wharf opposite Halifax after refueling when a terrific explosion in the engine-room threw the occupants into the water. Those injured were: Mr. and Mrs. David W. MacKen Jr. of Ottawa and their two children, Rose Marie, seven, and Marjorie, five; Mrs. Harry N. MacKen of Halifax and her two children; Mrs. John C. MacKen, and her two children, and Arthur Lance of Halifax, engineer.

One of the women and three children were saved from the water by Harold Bluenwhite, eighteen-year-old Dartmouth youth who plunged

Man or Goat
It happened in the Ballymena hiring fair. An aged farmer accented a red-faced youth if he would hire. "Certainly," said the youth. "How much?" said the farmer. "Fifteen pounds," said the youth. "Fifteen pounds?" echoed the farmer. "and not a hair on your face."

"Well," said the boy, "if it's hair that's going to do your work, buy a post."

Andrews Captures Three Events At Mainland Track Meet

Victoria Athlete Wins Jumps and 120-yard Hurdles

Individual Star of Caledonian Games; Cunningham and Dale Victors

Claim World Mark For Californian

Vancouver, Aug. 27.—A black-haired Californian, Hal Williams, of San Francisco's Olympic Club, today held what was said to be a new world record for the twenty-one-pound hammer throw, while officials thumbed back dusty pages of record books in a frantic search for the record he is claimed to have eclipsed.

The record-smashing performance was made by Williams yesterday at the fifth annual Caledonian Games track and field meet, where two young brothers of the same name from Nanaimo and a well-known Victoria track flash also starred, even though their individual performances broke no records.

Dark-haired Grant Williams and his fourteen-year-old brother, Campbell, carried Nanaimo's name down the cinder track to two triumphs, and Victoria's George Andrews led a strong Capital City squad to a number of victories over mainland representatives.

After Hal Williams had tossed the twenty-one-pound hammer 123 feet 5 1/2 inches, officials claimed it bettered by three inches a record held since 1918 by Jim McEachern of the same southern club.

A hasty check of record books by sports writers failed to reveal the McEachern record, however, and official confirmation was awaited today. Williams said his new record was made with a regulation hammer and the new mark would be applied for to the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

Even as Williams was swinging the weights in preparation for his record-smashing performance, two other youngsters of the same name, Grant and Campbell Williams, sprinted to victories in the junior century and the 220. Grant grabbed the win position in both with George Andrews barely beating Campbell in the 100. The 220 saw them finish one-two, with the younger brother giving Grant a close race. Grant's time for the 100 was 16.6 and for the 220 24.6.

To George Andrews of Victoria "Y" went the individual honors of any visiting club. He won the junior and senior broad jumping events and the 120 hurdles in a close finish and then stepped to the field to place second behind Leo Maki, Vancouver, in the javelin throw.

With Andrews showing the way, the rest of the Victoria squad, although minus two of their stars, Joe Addison and Paul Rowe, did well. The 880-yard event fell to Victoria as Bill Dale covered the distance in 2 minutes 6.8 seconds.

Dale later finished second behind Martin Naylor, Powell River, in the hop, step and jump.

The pounding feet of Chuck Cunningham, Victoria miler, accounted for that event. The Victorian forged into the lead at the start, and although challenged in a stretch drive by Vance McComber, Vancouver, he held on to win by a bare two feet in 4 minutes 39.3 seconds.

Nanaimo's victories did not stop with the triumphs of the Williams brothers.

Edgar Thomson, promising middle-distance man and cousin of Nanaimo's Hugh Thomson of Olympic competition, did the 400 yard dash in 57 seconds, beating H. Carey, Powell River, at the tape. Muriel Stobbert, the lone Nanaimo feminine entry, captured the junior high jump with a leap of 4 feet even, and placed third in the 60 metres for junior girls.

The senior 100, 220 and 440 all went to Vancouver men. Island trackmen did not compete.

Jack Fraser, Vancouver police flash, won the 220 and 440, while Martin Naylor took the century in 10.1, with Fraser at his heels.

Besides his victory in the twenty-yard dash, Fraser also won the 100 and 220.

PUBLICITY CONFERENCE

To make tentative plans for next year's programme to attract more tourists to the Pacific northwest and discuss the activities of the season now closing, directors of the Evergreen Playground Association will meet at Rainier National Park on Saturday, August 29.

All the cities linked with the association, including Victoria, Vancouver, Seattle, Bellingham, Tacoma and Portland, will have representatives at the conference.

Victoria will be represented by Mayor David Leeming, G. H. Stevens, president of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, and George L. Warren, publicity commissioner.

The Vancouver delegation will consist of E. H. Adams, vice-president of the B.C. Electric Railway Company and president of the Evergreen Playground Association; Dr. G. H. Worthington, president of the Vancouver Tourist Association; Brenton S. Brown and Charles H. Webster, Vancouver publicity commissioner.

Beets Are Regarded Easiest to "Put Up"

Each year there's a new group of homemakers eager to learn the mysteries of canning and preserving.

Canning really isn't so difficult as it seems, but to the inexperienced it does present problems. And no one wants to spend money for fruits and vegetables—not to mention time and energy—when they can be put up.

A reader who signs herself "Inexperienced" is one of these beginners. "Inexperienced" wants to know how to can baby beets. Beets happen to be one of the vegetables most easily canned and the instructions follow, but first—for "Inexperienced" and all other amateur homemakers—here are a few words of general advice.

New baby beets are ideal for home canning. They are less perishable than almost any other summer vegetable and retain their flavor and natural sweetness long after they are gathered. The oven method of canning is the one recommended. If you have a thermostatic controlled oven, the regulator is set at 275 degrees F. and the oven heated while packing the vegetables in the cans. A portable oven thermometer can, of course, be used, but frequent checking is necessary to insure satisfactory results.

ACID AIDS PRESERVING

Non-acid vegetables should be canned by the pressure method. The hot-pack, cold-pack and open kettle methods are not satisfactory for such vegetables as corn, beans and peas, because the heat is not intense enough to penetrate to the centre of the jars and completely sterilize the vegetables. Acid vegetables, such as tomatoes and those that are improved by the addition of lemon juice, are easy to can by any of the common methods. For some reason or other, acidity is an aid in preserving foods.

Lemon juice is added to preserve the bright color, and serve as a precaution against spoilage.

In preparing beets for canning, the large ones should be sliced or diced, but leave the baby beets whole.

TO CAN BEETS

Wash beets thoroughly, using a vegetable brush. Cut off tops, leaving about two inches of stem. Take care not to break the skin or cut the long straight tap root. Drop into a kettle of boiling water and boil twenty or thirty minutes. Dip into cold water and slip off skins. Pack in hot sterilized jars, adding ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar and 2 teaspoons lemon juice to each pint jar. Double the amount of salt, vinegar and lemon juice for quart jars. Add enough boiling water to fill jars to within an inch of the top. Half seal and place in preheated oven. Leave two hours, remove from oven and completely seal. Invert for a few minutes to be sure the seal is perfect, then place upright and let stand until cool.

As soon as a jar is filled, place it in the oven. Keep jars about two inches apart to allow for circulation of heat around each jar. Two racks, one above the other, may be used if the oven is large enough. Work fast and dip beets in cold water only long enough to slip skins, not long enough to chill them. The hotter the beets are when they are put in the jars, the better.

PICKLED BEETS

Pickled beets are easy to can, too, and they make attractive garnishes for salads. Cut in thin crescents and diamonds, they add a nice bit of color to vegetable and meat salads.

To make pickled beets, choose beets about the size of a golf ball and boil until tender. Slip skins, cut in thin slices and pack carefully in sterilized jars. Pour over boiling sweetened vinegar, filling jars to overflowing and seal as usual.

Use ½ cup light brown sugar and 2 teaspoons salt to one quart of vinegar. If you like spices, add whole cloves and stick cinnamon in the proportions of one ounce of cloves and 2 long sticks of cinnamon broken in

Tolmie Speaks On Exhibition

Appeals to Rotarians to Support Seventy-fifth Fair at Willows

Besides being an education for all, fairs were the only way of "spreading" the gospel of better agriculture to Canada's 750,000 farms, declared Hon. S. P. Tolmie, M.P., who as president of the British Columbia Agricultural Association, appealed to members of the Rotary Club to make the seventy-fifth provincial exhibition at the Willows this year a success, when he spoke at the club's weekly luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel today.

Fairs brought the farmer and the city worker together and built up friendship and business, Dr. Tolmie said. Every year, 1,000,000 people passed through the turnstiles at the Canadian National Exhibition, and Toronto businessmen had come to look upon the fair as a business opportunity. Competitions were beneficial, the doctor said, in that they improved the quality of the exhibits, and with improved quality came greater consumption.

Boys' and girls' classes which were unknown a short time ago, were now recognized throughout Canada, and were aided by federal grants. There was no greater way of getting the young interested in agriculture, Dr. Tolmie said.

Owing to the Central Films Company occupying the Industrial Building, the building near the house commercial exhibits. Carpenters were now giving the building a new roof, a new floor and better lighting.

The speaker promised a good show. There would be many horses over a ton in weight and four six-horse teams. An added feature would be a logging competition, he said.

Frank Doherty, president, introduced Dr. Tolmie.

P. B. Scourah reported on the recent meeting of the Canadian advisory committee to Rotary International which met at the secretariat in Chicago. Canadian clubs would be requested to study nationalization laws and persuade desirable aliens to become citizens, he said. He also mentioned that the subjects of outpost members and the necessity for better programmes had been brought up.

Mrs. Norman McConnell gave a selection on the piano. G. A. Yardley, collector of customs and excise, was accepted as a new member.

The other dressy outfit (right) includes a slim skirt of black silk satin and a flared white satin tunic with touches of black crepe.

Inch pieces. Heat the spices with sugar and vinegar.

Greet Premier On Coast Plane Tour

Receptions Committees Bring Problems to Patullo on Flying Visit to West Coast Points

Special to The Times
Vancouver, Aug. 27.—Premier Pattullo arrived here today by seaplane on his swing around Vancouver Island, on which he set out from Victoria at 8 o'clock this morning. At Port Renfrew, Banfield and here the Premier was welcomed by community turnout with special welcoming committees. It was the first time in their history they had been visited by a Premier of the province, they pointed out.

From the air the Premier made a study of the west coast road problem and was impressed with the vastness of one of the world's last great timber tracts on the west coast of this island.

More and more is the west coast coming under consideration, the Premier said at a meeting in the schoolhouse.

"This visit will enable us to heretofore better understand your problems as they arise," he said. Here, he said, the question of school amalgamation and the starting increase in number of Japanese children was discussed.

The Premier announced Hon. G. S. Pearson would visit this district to take up details of their problems. At each stop the Premier was greeted by swarms of children, practically none of whom had ever had an opportunity of seeing a chief executive of their province. Mr. Pattullo discussed problems of each centre with residents. He will continue up west coast this afternoon, coming down at chief ports. He plans to spend the night at Port Alice.

Special to The Times
Banfield, B.C., Aug. 27.—Premier Pattullo, accompanied by his secretary and Kenneth Drury, editor of The Victoria Times, arrived at Banfield by special seaplane at 10:45 this morning on a tour of the coast of Vancouver Island which is expected to last two days. The Premier proceeded to the residence of E. F. Jennings and was welcomed by a representative gathering. The Premier considered seaplane to be best and most advantageous method of conducting a tour, and was non-committal about west coast park and road. He saw Banfield under ideal conditions, as fine weather has been continuous for eight weeks. Time did not permit inspection of the cable station as the Premier's visit lasted only half an hour, then flew off for Ucluelet and Tofino.

EX-FINANCIER LEAVES PRISON

Associated Press
Lewisburg, Pa., Aug. 27.—Joseph W. Harriman, once powerful New York financier, left the federal northeastern penitentiary today, less than half of his four and a half years prison term behind him.

Persons close to the family said Harriman probably would go to New York to seek a position teaching business subjects. He is on parole.

Harriman in 1934 was convicted on charges of banking irregularities involving more than $1,000,000.

Wild ostriches can run fifty to sixty miles an hour for short distances.

As Dotty swung in open air, fair Goldy shouted, "Please take care. Don't try to travel too fast, or it's likely you will fall."

"There's no way we can give you aid, I guess that is why I'm afraid," Brave Dotty answered, "Oh, don't fret. I am not tired at all."

"Hand over hand I move along, and thus far nothing has gone wrong. Apparently the seal is holding tightly to the rope."

"You lots cling to the other end. I know on you I can depend."

"You bet you can," yelled Coppy. "And the big seal, too, I hope."

Then, for a while, no word was said. The bunch watched Dotty move ahead. Her progress really was quite slow, because she thought that best. Once when she stopped and looked about, a tiny crier, "Are you tired out?" "Oh, no," wee Dotty answered. "I just stopped to take a rest."

"You see, the distance is quite far from where I was to where you are."

Who's Who At Hotels

Three feminine travelers who met over a game of cards on a train between Banff and Vancouver are at the Empress Hotel today.

Carl von Silverling is the slim blonde daughter of a Swedish nobleman, but she never uses the title Baron von Silverling, has left his home in Sweden and now lives on the shores of the Gulf of Mexico.

Miss von Silverling is a "dress extra" in Hollywood, one of those luxurious creatures who glide in the latest of dresses through ball-room sequences and the like.

June 26 of this year she has covered 10,000 miles of holiday traveling on this continent, and is already making plans for further roaming next summer.

Clarice Koeler is the brunette secretary of the president of one of the largest chemical manufacturing firms in the United States.

She came here from Chicago by way of Canadian Rocky resorts.

Mrs. Barbara Bassett, who has lived for the last ten years in Washington, D.C., used to make her home in Alaska. In those days she was Miss Barbara Snyder. At present she is on her way to San Francisco to meet her sister.

Although they only reached Victoria yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. H. Evans of Pittsburgh have already fallen to the city's beauty. It is their first visit, and they plan to spend some four days here before returning home.

They have traveled all through Canada, with stops at Banff and Lake Louise.

Mr. Evans is head of the Evans Plastics Glass Company, one of the major glass-producing concerns in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans are staying at the Empress Hotel and are accompanied by their daughter.

Miss Mabel Williams, society editor of The Oakland Tribune, was due to arrive at the Empress Hotel early this afternoon from Seattle.

An inveterate traveler, there are few parts of Canada that she does not know. She is at present reaching one of the turning points of an extended tour through the west and middle-west.

Her brother, Frederick W. Williams, is national director of publicity for the Eucharistic Congress to be held in Manila this year.

The Empress Hotel was formally rechristened this morning. Bob Davis, long-trotting correspondent of The New York Sun, stood in front of the building with Mrs. Davis and gazed upwards at the green-covered walls. After a while he said: "This place ought to be called the Ivy Palace."

Mrs. Davis, who was begging her husband to unlimber his camera and start taking pictures, recalled that Geraldine Farrar, the opera star, always spoke of "My beloved Empress."

The Empress Hotel will be host at the week-end to some eighty prominent bankers.

The party, made up of members of the Investment Bankers' Association of the United States, will arrive from Seattle at 12:50 o'clock on Saturday afternoon and will remain in Victoria until 5:45 o'clock on Sunday afternoon.

Although the peak of the tourist season is well past, Californians continue to arrive in Victoria in steady numbers.

Among the latest arrivals at the Empress Hotel from the southern states are:

Mr. and Mrs. B. Omelung, Beverly Hills; Miss L. M. Heslin, San Francisco; Mrs. F. L. McEllen, Beverly Hills; Mrs. R. H. Torrey, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Harris, Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. "Buster" Crabbe

At the Columbia

That young giant of a man, Larry
"Buster" Crabbe, has developed into a screen cowboy of the first water in his new picture "Nevada," produced by Paramount from Zane Grey's story, which opens today at the Columbia Theatre.

Larry, in the picture, is known as "Nevada." Accompanied by "Cash Burridge," played by Sid Saylor, he rides into Arizona to become embroiled at once with a desperate band of cattle-rustlers. To make matters more difficult, Nevada falls in love with the daughter of a wealthy rancher—a role played impressively by the beautiful Kathleen Burke.

Barbara Stanwyck

To Be Seen Here

"The Bride Walks Out," coming to the Dominion Theatre with Barbara Stanwyck starred, delineates money troubles and sentiment in a manner which twists these serious matters into gay situations. Robert Young, as a washday playboy, pits his money against Gene Raymond's ambitions and sets a week to influence Miss Stanwyck, as Raymond's wife, to obtain a divorce and marry him.
Leigh Jason, who directed Miss Broderick and Raymond in "Love on a Bet," an earlier comedy hit of the season, puts "The Bride Walks Out" through the paces for RKO Radio from a scenario by Philip Epstein and
P. J. Wolfson.

Clever Comedy

At the Oak Bay

Laurel and Hardy's full-length feature, "Bonnie Scotland," is showing for the balance of the week at the Oak Bay Theatre. Featured with them are Lure Lang and William Janney, the former in the role of a Scottish lassie who inherits a fortune and Janney as a poor law clerk. So perfectly is the romance and the hilarious antics of Laurel and Hardy meshed that there is no clash in the unfolding of the story, which in the main concerns itself with the adventures of the two boys as members of a Highland regiment stationed in India. In the characters of McLaurel and McHardy these two veterans produce a laugh hit which has never been surpassed in any of their previous pictures.
"Gay Deception," a delightful comedy-romance with Francis Lederer and Bonita Hunt is an added attraction.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX-In your opinion is sophistication an asset or a liability as far as a girl's popularity is concerned in this modern age?

Answer-It depends upon what you mean by sophistication. If you mean poise, experience, knowing your way about in society, and how to meet all sorts of situations tactfully, being able to adapt yourself to all whom you meet, then sophistication is undoubtedly a great asset to a girl.

If you were going to have a girl visit you, for instance, you would want her always to present a good appearance and to be well and appropriately dressed on all occasions. You would want her to have good manners and to know her way about among the silver and how to eat unusual food. You would want her to be able to order a dinner in a restaurant if the occasion arose.

You would want her to know how to dance well and play a good game of bridge. You would want her to be able to converse with anyone whom she met. And you would want her to know how to handle men, how to make herself charming yet not to be overwhelmed by their attentions and how to play up to them without taking them seriously.

In a word, you would want your girl guest to be sophisticated because you would want her to be attractive enough to be popular. No matter how pretty and sweet a girl is she is under a great handicap if she is badly dressed, if she is shy and awkward and is so embarrassed when she meets strangers that she is tongue-tied.

But if you mean by sophistication, as I find a great many girls do, that a girl must pose as blasé and world-weary and as having seen it all and heard everything; and if she must boast of how many cocktails she drinks and how lit up she got at a party and how late she was getting home, and if she scorns as old-fashioned all of the delicacies and reserves of her sex, then I think that brand of sophistication is a great liability to the girl who wishes to be popular.

For you see the most alluring thing about youth is its lack of sophistication. It is the enthusiasms of youth, its hopes, its faith, its belief in all that is fine and beautiful, its enjoyment of everything that is its most precious possession, and when a girl throws these away she has cast her trump card into the discard. So it is a mistake for a young girl to pretend to be like Lady Kew's daughter who was forty years old and had heard all there was to tell. For we all who are older, and especially men, are shown men who like to exhibit the world and its wonders to eyes that are seeing things for the first time and that are bulging out with amazement.

There is something very repulsive in a hard-boiled girl. She smacks too much of the gutter, and we want our girls as we do our roscubs-fresh and unspoiled with the little tastes and weaknesses that have been bruised and trampled into the mud of the street.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX-I am a born cook and I am married to a man whose only weakness is a fondness for well prepared food, and, as he does everything in the world to make me happy and gives me every luxury, I make the gesture of appreciation by preparing his meals myself, although we could well afford servants. This pleases my husband and he boasts that he has an Antoine in his kitchen. But my mother and sisters, not one of whom could cook a decent meal, are raising a rumpus over it and telling me that I am belittling myself by being a servant. I am getting sick and tired of their criticisms and see no reason why I shouldn't do the thing that pleases myself and my husband. Do you?

Answer-I certainly do not, and I advise you to stick to your gas range. There is no surer way of retaining a husband's affections than by giving him the things he likes to eat and filling him so full of good food that he won't want to roam away from his armchair in the evenings.

Certainly it is a wife's first duty to make her husband a comfortable home and to cater to his little tastes and weaknesses, whether they be eating or reading or playing golf, and if more wives would do this there would be fewer divorces.

Sometimes it becomes necessary for a wife to tell her family where they get off when they begin interfering between her and her husband. It seems to me that the psychologist hour has arrived in which you should gently but firmly inform your mother and sisters that they must keep their fingers off of your plate. Tell them that when you want their advice you will ask for it and that in the meantime just to omit all references to the way you run your establishment.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX-What is a woman's intuition, and should it be given any consideration?

Answer-A woman's intuition is popularly supposed to be some occult faculty that she has for taking a flying leap in the dark and landing on both feet in making a decision. It is something that is believed to take the place of brains in women and that enables them to know things by the grace of God without thinking them out or using any reasoning in the matter. In other words, it is playing a hunch.

It is what makes a woman say: "I just had a feeling that it would rain on the day we set to go to the picnic." Or: "I just had an intuition that the cook would be sick when the Browns came to visit us." It is what makes a wife throw up to her husband for ten years after he has lost on stocks or lent money he was never repaid that she warned him against buying Wildcat Common and letting John have $100 because she had an intuition that he would lose out, and that if he had only listened to her, and so forth, and so forth.

It is observable that intuition seems to work better backward than forward. Nevertheless, women have great faith in their own, though scant respect for other women's hunches. Practically intuition doesn't seem worth a darn, or otherwise women would all get rich playing the stock market or the races.

Uncle Wiggily And the Mice

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

Two pussy cat boys ran down the path in front of Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow as fast as they could run. "Come on!" mewed one of the cat boys. "I'm coming!" mewed the other. "My goodness!" exclaimed Nurse Jane Puszy Wuszy looking out of her kitchen window. "The handsome lady housekeeper was making a strawberry long cake for Uncle Wiggily. He had just brought her the strawberries."

"What's the matter?" asked Mr. Longears. "Joie and Tommie Kat-running as fast as they can run," said Nurse Jane. "They must be chasing something." "Maybe there's a fire," said Mr. Longears, who always was afraid something like that would happen.

"No, it isn't a fire," said Uncle Wiggily. "I didn't hear the engines. Joie and Tommie must be having a race. All have nothing else to do, and as Nurse Jane has started the carrot shortcake-" "Pardon me," said Miss Puszy Wuszy, "but didn't you say you wanted a strawberry longcake?"

HOPS AFTER PUSZY BOYS

"Oh, so I did," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'm so excited about Joie and Tommie I don't know what I'm saying. But everything is all right here at my bungalow. I think I'll hop after those two pussy boys and see what they are chasing."

"Yes, that's a good idea," said the rabbit lady. As Uncle Wiggily hopped after Joie and Tommie he heard a great big splash. "Do you see her now?" "Yes, she's just ahead of us," said Tommie. "We'll soon catch her."

"I wonder who they are chasing?" thought Mr. Longears. He jumped faster and then he saw Joie and Tommie running into a cornfield. Ahead of the two pussy cat boys Uncle Wiggily saw a little mouse lady running as fast as she could run with her long tail tied in a knot behind her so she wouldn't step on it.

"Why, they're chasing a mouse!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "I hope it isn't Mrs. Longtail, the mother of Joie and Tommie. A second look told him it wasn't Mrs. Longtail. It was a strange mouse lady."

MOUSE LADY ESCAPES

"I'll get her," mewed Tommie. He made a big jump but the mouse lady made a bigger jump and got away. She darted down a hole in the ground that led to her nest before Joie and Tommie got there just too late. "Let's die her out!" mewed Tommie. "We aren't good at digging," said his Ottawa, Aug. 27.-The Polish government has expressed regret at the arrest of Mrs. Sonia Nordberg, wife of Martin Nordberg, until recently a resident of Ottawa, and has stated punitive measures will be taken against officials responsible for the incident, according to advices received here by the external affairs department. Mrs. Nordberg was held at Rawlby by Polish authorities on a charge of technical violation of currency regulations.
